

Contents

General Editors' Foreword	v
List of Contributors	ix
Introduction by Zenon Bankowski	xi
1 Law and Revolution Kazimierz Opatek	1
2 Scientific and Conceptual Revolutions Matti Sintonen	11
3 The Concept of Revolution Jes Bjarup	22
4 General Jurisprudence and the Elucidation of its Assumptions Yoshiharu Matsuura	31
5 Law and Social Activity: The Legacy of the French Revolution Grażyna Skąpska	42
6 Law and Revolution: What is 'Breaking with the Old Order?' Eugene Kamenka	53
7 Die Revolution als Erwachen vom kollektiven Traum Friedrich Lachmayer	58
8 Rechtskontinuität oder diskontinuierliche Rechtsschöpfung in der proletarischen Revolution? Andreas Gängel	67
9 Innovation and Tradition against the Background of Revolutionary Changes of Law—a Conceptual and Functional Analysis Maria Borucka-Arctowa	79
10 Revolutions and the Continuity of European Law Adam Czarnota and Martin Krygier	90
11 Legal Dogmatics and the Concept of a Scientific Revolution Jyrki Uusitalo	113

12	Wechsel von Paradigmen und Stilen in der praktischen juristischen Argumentation: eine empirische Untersuchung von Argumentationen des Schweizerischen Bundesgerichts, 1881–1980 Fritz Dolder	122
13	Can we speak of an Economic Revolution in Legal Reasoning? Pierluigi Chiassoni	142
14	Critical Legal Studies: a Revolution in Legal Thought? David Jabbari	155
15	Self-Regulation and Need-Orientedness as Models for Legal Dogmatics Thomas Wilhelmsson	166
16	The Possibility of Revolution in Legal Science Mats Flodin	175
17	Obligations to Future Generations: a Revolution in Social and Legal Thought? H Ph Visser't Hooft	183
	Index	195