
Contents

Z. Lojda: Opening Address	9
I. Wilhelm: Introduction	11
F. Radkovský: Introduction	15
J. S. Trojan: Resist the Evil!	18
J. Havránek: Greeting address of the Organizing Committee	21
P. Sadoul: Is the past history of the European Universities a handicap or an advantage for the future?	22
M. Šliž: Jewish scholarship-awarding foundations for Jagiellonian University students in 2nd half of the 19th century (till 1918) in the light of the acts of Jagiellonian University Archives	26
J. Podlipný: How to handle power – approaches in the teaching process	32
L. Javorčík: The Slovak University of Technology and its students – get ready for a changing world	36
M-F. Raguy: The educational methods in the future. Will the relationship between student and teacher be closer or more distant? Possibilities of postgraduate studies and extramural studies	41
Z. Tonar: The effectiveness in the education of theoretical disciplines on medical faculty	44
D. Daum: Economic problems of state and private universities	46
V. Lee: An experiment with group learning in diversity	51

K. Szabó and B. Gacs:
The influence of information technologies on society	60
B. R. Kern:
Legal issues on medical internet counsel	66
J. Ziche:
Misuse of information in an age of globalization	69
W. Kaltenstadler:
Misuse of information – the example of German media with special reference to the wars of Bosnia and Kosovo	75
A. Steger:
Responsibility and morality in advanced technologies	88
W. V. Wallace:
Universities in different parts of the world. Difficulties, challenges and anticipated achievements	92
S. Truchanová:
Care of university students on the British isles – a Slovak perspective	99
E. Möde:
The “Eichstätt Model” of a student oriented Catholic University education	103
W. Vossenkuhl:
The future of the university – quo vadis universitas?	107
J. Havlíček:
Case studies based on simulations and games in the e-environment	114
Ch. Grzhibovsky:
Educational expenditures in in the developed countries and in Latvia	119
L. Chrobák:
Closing address	127
S. Daum:
As a conclusion...	129