

CONTENTS

1. Introduction and delimitation of the problems	3
2. Outline of the development of archaeography	10
3. Basic description and its procedures	21
3.1 Conception of the object and of the property	21
3.2 Basic description	24
3.3 Interpretation of the basic description in the sentential calculus	26
3.4 Geometrical interpretation of the basic description	28
3.5 Transformation of the basic description	32
3.6 Probability in the basic description	35
3.7 Relations between pairs of columns (rows) of the basic description	36
3.8 Relations between sets of columns (rows) with more than two elements	40
3.9 Relations of elements of the basic description	51
3.10 Information systems	52
4. Interpretation of the basic description as for the contents	58
4.1 System of the archaeographical description	58
4.2 Classification in archaeography	61
4.3 Space in archaeography	73
4.4 Time in archaeography	77
4.5 Shape in archaeography	84
4.6 Scheme of archaeographical investigations	101
4.7 Formation and testing of archaeological concepts and hypotheses	104
4.8 Prehistorical interpretation of an archaeological concept	109
5. Appendix	112
References	122