

Contents

Cases in point	xii
Foreword by B. Minoru Makihara	xiv
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction	1
1 What Is a Corporation?	5
Definitions	5
Evolution of the Corporate Structure	6
The Purpose of a Corporation	11
Human satisfaction	11
Social structure	11
Efficiency and efficacy	12
Ubiquity and flexibility	12
Identity	13
The Corporation as a "Person"	13
The Corporation as a "Moral Person"	13
The Corporation in Society	16
The marketplace	17
Future Directions	18
Corporate Power and Corporate Performance	18
Corporate Crime: "Within the Limits of the Law"	24
Probation of corporations	25
Corporations and Government: Co-opting the Market	29
Measuring Performance	34
Balancing Interests	36
Good and Bad Corporations?	40
Equilibrium: The Cadbury Paradigm	44
Measuring Value Enhancement	46
GAAP	46
Market value	51
Earnings per share	52
EVA®: economic value added	53

Human capital: "It's not what you own but what you know"	54
Knowledge capital	55
The value of cash	55
Corporate "externalities"	60
Non-economic Considerations in Corporate Management	72
2 Shareholders: Ownership	80
Definitions	80
Early Concepts of Ownership	82
Early Concepts of the Corporation	83
A Dual Heritage: Individual and Corporate "Rights"	84
The Re-invention of the Corporation: Eastern Europe in the 1990s	85
The Evolution of the American Corporation	86
The Essential Elements of the Corporate Structure	89
The Separation of Ownership and Control, Part 1: Berle and Means	92
Fractionated Ownership	96
The Separation of Ownership and Control, Part 2: The Takeover Era	99
Waking the Sleeping Giant	102
A Framework for Participation	107
Ownership and Responsibility	107
No innocent shareholder	107
To Sell or Not to Sell: The Prisoner's Dilemma	109
Who the Institutional Investors Are	110
Bank trusts	111
Mutual funds	112
Insurance companies	113
Universities and foundations	113
Pension plans	114
The Biggest Pool of Money in the World	115
Pension plans as investors	121
Pension plans as owners	121
Public Pension Funds	123
Economically targeted investments	127
Federal Employee Retirement System	128
TIAA-CREF	130
Private Pension Funds	131
The Sleeping Giant Awakens: Shareholder Proxy Proposals on
Governance Issues	135
Focus on the Board	141
SEC's Proxy Reform	141
Investing in Activism	145
New Models and New Paradigms	146
The "Ideal Owner"	151
Pension Funds as "Ideal Owners"	153
Is the "Ideal Owner" Enough?	154
3 Directors: Monitoring	164
A Brief History of Anglo-American Boards	165
Today's Typical Board	166

Size	166
Inside/Outside mix	166
Diversity	166
Meeting frequency	167
Ownership	167
Board Duties: The Legal Framework	168
The Board–Management Relationship	171
Information Flow	171
The CEO–Chairman	175
Catch 22: The Ex-CEO as Director	176
Director Nomination	178
Director Compensation	185
Interlocks	187
Time and money	187
The Director's Role in Crisis	189
"Independent" Outside Directors	190
Director Election	194
Staggered boards	194
Confidential voting	195
Impact of the Takeover Era on the Role of the Board	196
The Fiduciary Standard and the Delaware Factor	197
How did boards respond?	199
Greenmail	199
"Poison pills"	200
Other anti-takeover devices	202
Recommendations for the Future	203
Improving director compensation	203
Increasing the authority of independent directors	203
"A market for independent directors"	204
"Designated director"	205
"Just vote no"	205
Audit committees	206
Board evaluation	207
Executive session meetings	207
Succession planning and strategic planning	207
Lipton/Lorsch's "Modest Proposal"	207
Making directors genuinely "independent"	209
Involvement by shareholders	210
4 Management: Performance	215
Introduction	215
What Do We Want from the CEO?	216
"Dinosaurs"	218
Executive Compensation	221
Stock Options	225
Restricted Stock	227
Shareholder Concerns: Several Ways to Pay Day	227
The "guaranteed bonus" – the ultimate oxymoron	227
Bundled proposals	228

Deliberate obfuscation	228
The Christmas tree	228
Compensation plans that are all upside and no downside	228
Phony cuts	229
Future Directions	229
CEO Employment Contracts	230
Gross-ups	231
Cause	231
Change of control	232
Half now, half later	232
Employees: Compensation and Ownership	233
Employee Stock Ownership Plans	237
Mondragón and Symmetry: Integration of Employees, Owners, and Directors	240
Conclusion	244
5 International Governance	249
Corporate Governance Has Gone Global	249
The triumph of the corporation	249
The global company	250
The global investor	250
The demands of capital	250
The triumph of the code	251
Universal codes	252
An investor perspective	252
The Asian Financial Crisis, the World Bank and Governance in Emerging Markets	258
World Bank and G7 response	259
Global Corporate Governance Forum	262
The Developed World	264
Japan	264
Corporate governance in Japan: A report by Oxford Analytica	265
Corporate Governance Forum of Japan	273
Germany	275
Corporate governance in Germany: A report by Oxford Analytica	275
Signs of change	282
German governance code	283
Earthquake	285
Future perfect?	287
France	291
French ownership	291
Management and boards: Non state-owned companies	292
Viénot I and II	292
Convergence?	295
6 Case Studies: Corporations in Crisis	298
General Motors	299
General Motors and Pierre du Pont	299
General Motors: What Went Wrong?	302

General Motors and Ross Perot	321
General Motors after Perot: Smith and Stempel	326
General Motors: A Postscript	333
American Express	338
Time Warner	350
Sears, Roebuck & Co.	362
Diversification Strategy: The Fate of Retail	362
Sears: A Postscript	371
Armand Hammer and Occidental Petroleum	373
Polaroid	377
Polaroid's ESOP: Delaware Sits in Judgment	379
Carter Hawley Hale	388
Hostile Takeover	388
After the Restructuring	396
Eastman Kodak	399
Waste Management Corp.	403
Gold into Garbage	404
Lens and Soros	405
The Soros Effect	409
Restructuring	410
What Went Wrong?	417
How Was It Solved?	418
Waste Management: A Postscript	419
Stone & Webster	422
Stone & Webster: The Company that Built America	422
Mirror Group	435
Shareholder Activism in the UK	435
Appendix: Overview of Corporate Governance Guidelines and Codes of Best Practice in Developing and Emerging Markets by Holly J. Gregory	438
Overview	439
The Corporate Objective	440
Board Responsibilities and Job Description	441
Board Composition	442
Board Committees	445
Disclosure Issues	445
Summary	446
Index of names	447
Subject index	460