

Contents

---

Foreword	ix
List of Contributors	xi
CHAPTER ONE
Introduction	1
Peter Diamond and Hannu Vartiainen
CHAPTER TWO
Behavioral Public Economics: Welfare and Policy Analysis with Non-standard Decision-Makers	7
B. Douglas Bernheim and Antonio Rangel
2.1 Introduction	7
2.2 Conceptualizing and Measuring Welfare	10
2.3 Saving	20
2.4 Addiction	40
2.5 Public Goods	57
2.6 The Road Ahead	66
Comment by Nicholas Stern	78
Comment by Emmanuel Saez	81
CHAPTER THREE
Psychology and Development Economics	85
Sendhil Mullainathan
3.1 Introduction	85
3.2 Immediate Barriers to Education	86
3.3 Demand for Commitment, Default Settings, and Savings	90
3.4 Defaults and Financial Institutions	95
3.5 Status Quo Bias and Diffusion of Innovations	97
3.6 Self-Serving Bias and Evaluation	102

CONTENTS

3.7	Interesting Further Directions	104
3.8	Concluding Observations	110
	Comment by Anne Case	113
CHAPTER FOUR
	Behavioral Law and Economics	115
	Christine Jolls
4.1	Introduction	115
4.2	The Endowment Effect in Behavioral Economics and Behavioral Law and Economics	116
4.3	The Modern Domain of Behavioral Law and Economics	121
4.4	Illustrative Applications of Behavioral Law and Economics	126
4.5	Debiasing through Law	137
4.6	Conclusion	140
	Comment by Ian Ayres	145
	Comment by Christoph Engel	148
CHAPTER FIVE
	Fairness, Reciprocity, and Wage Rigidity	157
	Truman F. Bewley
5.1	Introduction	157
5.2	Are Wages and Salaries Downwardly Rigid?	157
5.3	Evidence from Surveys by Economists	160
5.4	Evidence from Experimental Economics	170
5.5	Evidence from Organizational Psychology and Managerial Science	176
5.6	Conclusion	181
	Comment by Seppo Honkapohja	188
CHAPTER SIX
	Behavioral Economics and Health Economics	195
	Richard G. Frank
6.1	Introduction and Background	195
6.2	Models of Physician Behavior	197
6.3	Health-Care Demand and Insurance	213
6.4	Final Observations	217
	Comment by Jacob Glazer	223
	Comment by Botond Koszegi	230

CHAPTER SEVEN

Behavioral Economics of Organizations	235
Colin F. Camerer and Ulrike Malmendier
7.1 Introduction	235
7.2 Complicating the Single-Agent Risk-Incentive Model	237
7.3 Workers as Members of Multi-Agent Firms	248
7.4 Top Managers and Corporate Finance	258
7.5 Implications for Corporate Governance	267
7.6 Organizational Reactions: Sorting, Repairs, and Exploitation	268
7.7 Conclusion	272
Comment by Michael D. Cohen	281

CHAPTER EIGHT

Wrap-Up Panel	291
8.1 The Problematic Content and Context of Decisions: Comment by Eldar Shafir	291
8.2 Comment by Jean Tirole	294
8.3 Comment by Timothy D. Wilson	299
8.4 Comment by Peter Diamond	301
8.5 General Discussion	304

Index	309
--------------	-----