

Contents

FOREWORD by John B. Cobb, Jr., i

PREFACE, v

PART ONE: WHY MARXISM?

1. Introducing Organic Marxism, 3

Marxist Socioeconomic Policies after "Industrial Marxism"

Organic Marxism and "Ecological Civilization"

Contemporary Chinese Marxism

Conclusion: New Resources

2. Why Not Capitalism? Historical Origins, 15

Defining Capitalism

The Ideal of the State: A Brief History

The Birth of Capitalism

The "Invisible Hand" of Capitalism

Conclusion

3. Why Not Capitalism? Contemporary Practices and their Consequences, 35

Pure and Impure Forms of Capitalism

Examples of Pure Capitalism

Capitalism, Social Darwinism, and Religion

The Consequences of Capitalism

Conclusion

PART TWO: FROM MODERN TO POSTMODERN MARXISM

4. Marxism in the Industrial Age and Organic Marxism, 53

“Power Corrupts...”

Marx’s Modernist Assumptions

Postmodern Organic Marxism

5. From German Marxism to Culturally Embedded Marxism, 71

The Many Marxisms

Marxism in Russia

Marxism in China—Mao Zedong Thought

Chinese Marxism Today

6. Deconstructive Postmodernism and Critical Marxism, 83

Jacques Derrida

Slavoj Žižek

David Harvey

Conclusion

7. Rethinking Freedom and Human Rights after Liberalism, 99

Freedom

Freedom from Constraint

Freedom for Community

Human Rights

Blue Rights

Red and Green Rights

Conclusion

8. Democracy and Justice: A Post-Liberal Perspective, 121

Democracy

Democracy in Service of the Market

Is European-Style Social Democracy Enough?

Organic Marxism for the Common Good

Justice

Conclusion

PART THREE: ORGANIC MARXISM

9. Marxism and the Ecological Sciences: The Science of Organic Systems, 141

Organic and Contextualized Knowledge

The Sciences of Interconnected Systems

Beyond Mechanism: The New Science of Organisms

Conclusion

10. Organic Marxism, Process Philosophy, and Chinese Thought, 155

Organic Marxism as an Open Marxism

Marx and Whitehead

What is Process Thought?

Chinese Process Thought

Conclusion

11. Rethinking Marxism in a Time of Ecological Crisis, 177

Marx, Marxism, and Ecology

Marx as an Environmentalist?

Organic Marxism: With Marx beyond Marx

Conclusion

12. The Ecology of Organic Marxism, 193

Exploding the Myth of Unlimited Growth

Seeking Civilizational Change: The Philosophy of Organism

The Manifesto of Organic Marxism

Conclusions

13. The Praxis of Organic Marxism, 207

Guiding Principles

Policy Guidelines

The Practices of Organic Marxism

14. What Does Ecological Civilization Look Like? 229

Why Believe in the Possibility of Political Change?

It is Never Too Late

What Does Ecological Civilization Look Like?

Organic Marxism: A Third Way

Final Conclusions

INDEX, 247