

Contents

Preface	vii
List of contributors	ix
1 Introduction: diversity and the JAC's first ten years GRAHAM GEE AND ERIKA RACKLEY	1
2 The JAC's first ten years CHRISTOPHER STEPHENS CBE	22
Reflection SIR THOMAS LEGG KCB QC	27
3 Power and judicial appointment: squaring the impossible circle ALAN PATERSON OBE	32
4 'Opening up' Commonwealth judicial appointments to diversity? The growing role of commissions in judicial selection JAN VAN ZYL SMIT	60
5 The Judicial Service Commission: lessons from South Africa CORA HOEXTER	83
6 Diversity without a judicial appointments commission – the Australian experience ANDREW LYNCH	101
7 Diversity, transparency and inclusion in Canada's judiciary SAMREEN BEG AND LORNE SOSSIN	118
Reflection FRANCES KIRKHAM CBE	142
Reflection NOEL LLOYD CBE	146

8	Judging the JAC: how much judicial influence over judicial appointments is too much?	152
	GRAHAM GEE
9	Judicial diversity and mandatory retirement: obstacle or route to diversity?	183
	ALYSIA BLACKHAM
	Reflection	198
	KARON MONAGHAN QC
10	Judicial diversity: complexity, continuity and change	205
	HILARY SOMMERLAD
11	Beyond merit: the new challenge for judicial appointments	223
	JOHN MORISON
12	Problems of scale in achieving judicial diversity	240
	ROSEMARY HUNTER
	Reflection	255
	CORDELLA BART-STEWART
13	The disruptive potential of ceiling quotas in addressing over-representation in the judiciary	259
	KATE MALLESON
14	Three models of diversity	283
	ERIKA RACKLEY AND CHARLIE WEBB
	Reflection	299
	JENNY ROWE CB
15	Appointments to the Supreme Court	302
	LADY HALE DBE
	Appendix I: The JAC's selection exercise activity (2006–2016)	313
	Appendix II: Key officeholders during the JAC's first decade	315
	Appendix III: Outline of JAC selection processes	321
	Appendix IV: About the cover image	325
	Index	327