

Table of Content

Anna Hogenová: Logos and its Self-Same	7
Naděžda Pelcová: Privation as a Path to the Logos of Oneself	19
Lev B. Vertgeym: Word and Silence in Education	27
Michael Hauser: Lukács's Notion of "Concrete Totality" as Logos in the Age of Fragmentation. The Precariat as the Road to Knowledge	35
Dariusz Stepkowski: Relationship between Bildung and Seeing. Herbart's Concept of Aesthetic Moral Education	45
Zbyněk Zicha: Logos and Other Important Ancient Ideas for Education	67
David Rybák: "As a Teacher, I cannot Teach Anyone Anything"	77
Nina Nalivayko, Yakovleva Irina Vladimirovna, Tatiana Kosenko: "Logos" (ΛΟΓΟΣ) as "Word". Its Role in Life and Education (Upbringing) of the Person	81
Andrea Hlaváčková Fleischerová: ENTHUSIASMOS and LOGOS in the Aristotelian Conception	87
Tomáš Samek: The Logos as a Path towards Oneself and Others: Learning through Dialogue	93
Skaiste Laskienė, L. Marmienė, A. Andriulionienė: The Question of Paradigm and Subject in Research on Strategies for Coping with Burnout Syndrome in Medical Staff	101
Milena Tichá: Certain Problems of Macroeconomic Indicator Evaluation ...	109