

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Contributors	viii
Introduction: Parallax London Nick Hubble and Philip Tew	1
1 Exploring London in Ian McEwan's Saturday (2005): Trauma and the Traumatological, Identity Politics and Vicarious Victimhood Philip Tew	17
2 Seeing 'The Empty Space': Ali Smith's The Accidental Susan Alice Fischer	35
3 Delineating the Liminal in Illimitable London: Will Self's The Book of Dave and the Cockney Visionary Sebastian Jenner	49
4 The Changingman: Masculinity, Violence and Revenge in Martin Amis's Yellow Dog Nick Bentley	65
5 Peter Ackroyd's London: The Sacredness of Space and Time Tomasz Niedokos	83
6 Viewing Art in London's Museums: Ekphrasis in Selected Fiction by Julian Barnes, A. S. Byatt and Peter Ackroyd Doris Bremm	95
7 Iain Sinclair: Complexity, Imagination and the Re-Enchanted Margins of London Orbital Laura Colombino	111
8 Feeling London Globally: The Location of Affect in White Teeth Jung Su	127
9 Agency and Conflict in Andrea Levy's Polyphonic London Anja Müller-Wood	145

10	The Liminality of Underground London Nora Pleßke	161
11	The Un-, Ab- and Alter-Londons of China Miéville: Imaginary Spaces for Concrete Subjects Mark P. Williams	177
12	Common People: Class, Gender and Social Change in the London Fiction of Virginia Woolf, John Sommerfield and Zadie Smith Nick Hubble	195
	Index	211