

Contents

Part I Power and Freedoms

1 Introduction	3
1.1 Setting the Stage	3
1.2 Studying Power in Order to Study Freedoms	5
1.3 Our Ariadne's Threads	8
1.3.1 The Elimination of the Social Effects of Uncertainty and the Risks to Freedoms	8
1.3.2 Vindication of Rights	10
1.4 The Structure of this Work	12
References	12
2 A World of Ambient Intelligence	15
2.1 Ambient Intelligence, What Is It?	15
2.2 The Technology Within	18
2.2.1 Enabling Technologies	18
2.2.2 A Focus on Automated Profiling	22
2.2.3 AmI Features	25
2.2.4 Around the Ideas of Power and Freedoms	28
2.3 Conclusions	37
References	38
3 The Power Through Technology	43
3.1 How Non-Neutral?	44
3.2 Surveillance, an Account of Power Through Technology	48
3.3 Algorithmic Governmentality	52
3.3.1 The Concept and the Means of a New Way to Govern	53
3.3.2 Virtuality	58
3.4 Conclusions	62
References	63

4 The Capability Approach	67
4.1 Presenting the Capability Approach.....	67
4.2 Central Concepts and Distinctions.....	69
4.2.1 Freedom and Means to Freedom.....	69
4.2.2 Sets of Beings and Doings.....	71
4.2.3 Evaluative Spaces: Well-Being and Agency; Freedoms and Achievements.....	73
4.3 Capabilities and Human Rights.....	75
4.4 At the Crossroads with Theories of Technology.....	77
4.4.1 From Access to Technology to the Conversion of Resources into Capabilities.....	78
4.4.2 The Impact of Technology Design on Capabilities.....	79
4.4.3 Capabilities and Risk.....	80
4.4.4 Human Development and Human Enhancement.....	81
4.5 Conclusions.....	83
4.6 An Evaluation of Part I.....	84
References.....	89
 Part II Rights
5 Privacy and Human Flourishing	95
5.1 The Private and the Public.....	98
5.1.1 The Private, the Public and the Law.....	98
5.1.2 Is There Something Private in Essence?.....	100
5.2 Privacy, A Fundamental Human Right.....	104
5.2.1 The Multiple Dimensions of Privacy.....	104
5.2.2 Making Some Sense of Privacy: Our Starting Points.....	114
5.3 Crossing Languages.....	121
5.3.1 Vindicating Rights.....	121
5.3.2 Privacy as Long as It Is Free?.....	124
5.3.3 Privacy and Well-Being.....	126
5.3.4 Virtuality, Privacy and Capabilities.....	127
5.4 Conclusions.....	128
References.....	130
 6 Data Protection Law, Processes and Freedoms	137
6.1 It's (Almost) Nothing Personal.....	139
6.2 The Weak Autonomy.....	145
6.2.1 Out of Control.....	145
6.2.2 Protecting the Data Subject.....	147
6.3 The Techno-Legal Approach: Beyond the Good and the Evil?.....	152
6.4 How Transparent Should Data Processing Be?.....	156
6.5 From Free Flow to Just Aggregation.....	160
6.6 Conclusions.....	163
References.....	166

7 Conclusion	171
References.....	175
Appendix	177
Index.....	193