

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	I
1001-1100
The Eleventh Century	9
The growth of the Western Church	14
Peace	20
The discontinuation of slavery	23
Structural engineering	26
1101-1200
The Twelfth Century	33
Population growth	35
The expansion of the monastic network	38
The intellectual renaissance	41
Medicine	47
The rule of law	51
1201-1300
The Thirteenth Century	57
Commerce	59
Education	65
Accountability	69
Friars	73
Travel	77

1301-1400The Fourteenth Century 84

The Black Death 86

Projectile warfare 92

Nationalism 97

Vernacular languages 102

1401-1500The Fifteenth Century 108

The age of discovery 110

Measuring time 116

Individualism 120

Realism and Renaissance naturalism 123

1501-1600The Sixteenth Century 129

Printed books and literacy 132

The Reformation 139

Firearms 144

The decline of private violence 148

The foundation of European empires 154

1601-1700The Seventeenth Century 160

The Scientific Revolution 164

The Medical Revolution 172

Settlement of the world 176

The social contract 180

Rise of the middle classes 182

1701-1800The Eighteenth Century 188

Transport and communications 189

The Agricultural Revolution 195

Enlightenment liberalism 199

Economic theory 205

The Industrial Revolution	211
Political revolution	215
1801–1900
The Nineteenth Century	224
Population growth and urbanisation	226
Transport	231
Communications	236
Public health and sanitation	240
Photography	245
Social reform	249
1901–2000
The Twentieth Century	261
Transport	263
War	271
Life expectancy	277
The media	279
Electrical and electronic appliances	282
The invention of the future	286
Conclusion: Which century saw the most change?	295
Stability and change	296
A scale of needs	299
Social change in relation to the scale of needs	302
The end of history?	319
The principal agent of change	325
Envoi: Why it matters	328
Appendix: Population estimates	347
Notes	355
Picture Credits	379
Index	381