

CONTENTS

Introduction xi

The Women 1

MONICA HARRINGTON 3

A marketing manager speaks about her career, her marriage, and an ambition to write.

MAGGIE LINDLEY 11

A native Brit shares her love of boats, friends, and food.

ANGIE BOLTON 21

An actress talks about being an only child, entertaining children, and her marriage.

JANE T. SMILEY 29

A retired retail executive tells of her exciting career and busy volunteer life.

KRIS ROMERO 37

A social worker recounts her contributions and tells of her connections to nephews and nieces.

- JOAN STEWART 43
*A media consultant talks of loving her work
and growing up with a sickly mother.*
- PRINCESS JACKSON-SMITH 51
A government public-affairs director remarks on creativity, the needs of parents in the workplace, and serving children.
- SHEILA HOFFMAN 59
An environmental activist talks about her marriage and building community.
- LILLIAN COMAS-DÍAZ 67
A psychologist describes her focus on career and the influences of Latino culture.
- PAT LUNNEBORG 75
*A retired professor and author tells of her work,
her husband, and their travels.*
- AMY YU-MEI SIE 81
A native of Hong Kong describes her career as a social worker for children and her love of music and the arts.
- CHRISTINE SWANBERG 89
A poet and teacher speaks about travel and slowing down.
- GEORGIANA ARNOLD 97
A health educator raised by a single mother talks about her community and the children in her life.

VICKI HEPPNER 105

An accountant and actress living with a chronic illness discusses family influences.

SARAH KLEIN 113

A young second-grade teacher comments on relationships and her work in an inner-city school.

SUTAPA BASU 121

A native of India describes cultural pressures and her global activism.

MARTHA DORN 129

A fundraiser discusses her marriage, her career, and her garden.

NEESA HEART 137

A massage therapist from a troubled family shares thoughts on spirituality.

JOY MICHAUD 145

A scientist and rock-climber reflects on social perceptions of the childfree life.

RUBY BURTON 153

A retired court reporter recounts her youth in a mining camp, family, and travels.

NAN YURKANIS 159

A yoga teacher recalls drug addiction and talks of her practice and vocation.

VALDA THOMAS-MATSON 165

A community organizer talks of genes, God, marriage, and loving children.

MARIA RODRIGUEZ 171

A young woman tells of her parents' disapproval of her lifestyle and describes her dreams for the future.

MARY LAMBERT 179

*A hairdresser tells of her sister's death and
of life with her boyfriend and his daughter.*

LOUISE ROSS 187

A native of Australia describes being a late bloomer and resisting pressures to have children.

Acknowledgments 195

Resources 197