

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

1 Joining the Book Club 1

Really Reading in Literature Circles 3

What Do Book Clubs Look Like? 4

What Are Mini-lessons? 5

Why Do You Need Mini-lessons? 6

What Topics Do Mini-lessons Cover? 7

Social Skills 7

Reading Strategies 9

Literary Analysis 10

When Do You Teach Mini-lessons? 11

Calendar 1 13

Calendar 2 15

Do Literature Circles Run All Year Long? 16

Which Mini-lesson Do You Teach When? 17

How Are Mini-lessons Organized in This Book? 18

How Did We Choose These Forty-five Mini-lesson Topics? 19

How Do You Teach Mini-lessons Well? 20

Adapt Them to Your Class 20

Provide Students with Journals 21

Be Ready to Switch Roles 21

Are These Mini-lessons Useful Only for Literature Circles? 23

Does Scientific Research Support Literature Circles? 23

What About Educational Standards? 24

Who Are We? 25

Why the Starfish? 27

Recommended Readings 27

2 Getting Ready for Peer-Led Discussions 29

Class Icebreaker: Find Someone Who 31

Conversational Warm-up: Membership Grid 38

Home Court Advantage 43

Defining Discussion Skills 48

Think-Aloud 55

Written Conversation 63

3 Practicing with Short Text: Tools for Thoughtful Response 71

Role Sheets 75

Response Logs 80

Post-its 85

Bookmarks 89

Drawing 93

Text Coding 100

4 Getting Started with Whole Books 106

Presenting Book Choices with Book Talks 108

Presenting Book Choices with a Book Pass 112

Setting Ground Rules 115

Making a Reading Calendar 118

Dealing with the First Chapter 122

5 Refining Discussion Skills: Creating Deeper Comprehension 126

Asking Good Questions 128

Asking Follow-up Questions 133

Save the Last Word for Me 138

Prove It! Taking It Back to the Book 143

Discussion Skill Table Cards 148

Getting More Mileage Out of Drawings 154

6	Solving Problems: Students and Groups Who Struggle	159
	Books on Tape	162
	Dealing with Slackers and Unprepared Members	166
	Sharing Airtime: Helping Dominant or Shy Members	170
	Overcoming Off-Task Triggers	174
	Extending Discussion When You've Run Out of Stuff on Your Notes but the Clock Is Still Running	178
	Don't Spoil the Ending	181
	Abandoning a Book	185
7	Examining the Author's Craft	188
	Savoring Powerful Language	190
	Taking Note of Strong Verbs	193
	Examining the Setting with Research	198
	The Envelope, Please: Predicting Plot and Character	206
	Looking at Characterization	210
8	Assessment and Accountability	218
	Post-Discussion Journaling	221
	Goal Setting for Group Improvement	225
	Using Student Observers	229
	Eye in the Sky Videotaping	234
	Developing a Rubric with Students	239
9	Performance Projects That Rock	245
	Tableaux	247
	Readers Theater	253
	Skit with Narration	259
	Talk Show	265
	Brief the President	273

10 Do It Yourself! 277

Appendix 281

Find Someone Who	282
Membership Grid	283
Book Pass Review Sheet	284
Abandoned Book Report	285
The Envelope, Please	286
Observation Sheet	287
Character Resumé	288
Video Reflections	289

References 290

4 Getting Started with Whole Books 101

Presenting Book Choices with Book Talks	101
Presenting Book Choices with Post-Discussion Journaling	102
Goal Setting for Group Improvement	123
Using Student Observers	128
Developing a Rubric with Students	139

5 Refining Discussion Skills: Creating Deeper Understanding 139

Asking Good Questions	139
Asking Follow-up Questions	141
Save the Last Word for Me	143
Prove It! Taking It Back to the Book	143
Discussion Skill Table Cards	144
Getting More Mileage Out of Drawings	154