Contents

	Acknowledgements	vi
	Author and series editor	vii
	Foreword	viii
	Introduction	X
PART ONE	The theoretical foundation of a pedagogy of being
1	Towards a pedagogy of being
	1.1 From a pedagogy of having	3
	1.2 towards a pedagogy of being	4
	1.3 Characteristics of a pedagogy of being	5
	1.4 The concept of the person in a pedagogy of being	12
	1.5 An application of the pedagogy of being: psychodramaturgy	22
	1.6 Conclusion	29
		IRE
2	The methodological foundations of linguistic psychodramaturgy
	2.1 The functions of language	31
	2.2 The relationship between the first language and a foreign	ig
	language	35
	2.3 LPD's approach to the foreign language	37
	2.4 Comprehension in the communicative process	46
	2.5 Retention	51
	2.6 The objectives of LPD	53
	2.7 Conclusion	54
	into Population house and tradellism Made applies arries editor for the
PART TWO	Practical approaches to LPD
3	Relaxation
	3.1 The effects and purposes of relaxation	57
	3.2 Relaxation in practice	58
	3.3 Conclusion	68
4	Rhythm and expression
	4.1 The role of intonation in foreign language learning	71
	4.2 A practical approach to intonation	72
	4.3 An approach to expression	79
	4.4 Conclusion	85

5	Linguistic psychodramaturgy in practice
	5.1 The teaching environment	87
	5.2 First contacts with the language	90
3.	5.3 Further stages	114
	5.4 Dramatization	120
	5.5 Art and psychodramaturgy	124
	5.6 Back to reality	126
	5.7 Further work	126
	5.8 Conclusion	127
6
	6.1 Functions of fairy-tales and myth	129
	6.2 Warm-up	131
	6.3 Dramatization	134
	6.4 Creating a fairy-tale	138
	6.5 Using myth	145
	6.6 Conclusion	146
7
	7.1 Techniques for approaching written expression in LPD	147
	7.2 Developing written expression in different types of text	157
	7.3 Conclusion	160
	The subcondendance of the second seco
PART THREE	Teacher training
	v. and the till a viscosit and the alternation of CPC 1. e.e.
8
	8.1 Historical overview of teacher training	163
	8.2 Four significant areas of teacher training	165
	8.3 Objectives of relational training	171
	<ul><li>8.4 Self-image as teachers</li><li>8.5 Myths teachers have about teachers</li></ul>	175
	<ul><li>8.5 Myths teachers have about teachers</li><li>8.6 Training LPD animators</li></ul>	177
		181 183
	8.7 Conclusion	105
9	Personal relations in teacher training
9	9.1 Exercises in sensitizing to emotional aspects of teaching	185
	9.2 Case studies from teacher training courses	189
	9.3 Conclusion	195
	going and the second se	17)
	Glossary	197
	Bibliography	199
	Index	207
		-