

CONTENTS

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| About the Author   | ix        |
| 1 INTRODUCTION   | 1  |
| So, How Does This Book Start, Then? How Should Ibe Reading it?        | 1         |
| What Makes ANT so 'Special'? Why Does it Deservemy Attention?         | 3         |
| What is the Point of This Book? What Should I Expectto Get out of it? | 6         |
| What's in This Book? How Should I Read it?                                | 7         |
| So, Who's to Blame for This Book, Then?                                   | 9         |
| 2 ACTOR-NETWORK THEORY: OLD AND NEW ROOTS                          | 10 |
| Introduction  | 10        |
| ANT – A Sketchy Distinctiveness   | 11        |
| The Constructedness of Knowledge  | 12        |
| a. Functionalism  | 13        |
| b. Sociology of Scientific Knowledge                                      | 14        |
| The Role of the Nonhuman  | 17        |
| a. Whitehead  | 17        |
| b. Serres   | 19        |
| Power and Representation  | 21        |
| Flatness and Extension  | 23        |
| Method, Vocabulary, Analysis  | 25        |
| Conclusion  | 27        |
| 3 'CLASSICAL' ACTOR-NETWORK THEORY                                 | 28 |
| Introduction  | 28        |
| ANT-in-the-Making   | 29        |
| a. Laboratory Life  | 29        |
| b. Pasteurization   | 31        |
| c. The Big Leviathan  | 32        |
| Systematizing ANT   | 34        |
| a. Tenets   | 34        |
| b. Terminology  | 36        |
| 'The Constructedness of Knowledge'  | 39        |

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| 'The Role of the Nonhuman'                       | 40        |
| a. Necessary Nonhumans                           | 40        |
| b. Hybrids                                       | 42        |
| 'Power and Representation'                       | 43        |
| 'Flatness and Extension'                         | 45        |
| 'Method, Analysis, Vocabulary'                   | 48        |
| Conclusion                                       | 51        |
| 4 CRITIQUES, CONCERNS AND CO-PRODUCTIONS  | 52 |
| Introduction                                     | 52        |
| 'The Constructedness of Knowledge'               | 53        |
| a. Boundary Objects                              | 53        |
| b. Ambivalence                                   | 55        |
| 'The Role of the Nonhuman'                       | 56        |
| a. 'Fluidity'                                    | 56        |
| b. Complex 'Functions'                           | 58        |
| c. Hybrids and their Problems                    | 59        |
| 'Power and Representation'                       | 60        |
| a. Marginality                                   | 60        |
| b. Culture                                       | 61        |
| 'Flatness and Extension'                         | 61        |
| a. Topology                                      | 62        |
| b. Rhizome                                       | 63        |
| c. Mediators                                     | 63        |
| 'Method, Analysis, Vocabulary'                   | 65        |
| a. Baggage                                       | 65        |
| b. Otherness                                     | 66        |
| c. Property                                      | 66        |
| ANT and Agency                                   | 67        |
| a. Distributive Agency                           | 68        |
| b. Attributive Agency                            | 69        |
| c. Agency as 'Method'                            | 71        |
| Conclusion                                       | 71        |
| 5 ANT AND SOME BIG SOCIOLOGICAL QUESTIONS | 73 |
| Introduction                                     | 73        |
| A Brief Note on ANT's Anti-Social Theory         | 74        |
| a. The Posthuman                                 | 74        |
| b. Governmentality and Neoliberalism             | 75        |
| c. Risk Society                                  | 76        |
| Bourdieu, Practice and ANT                       | 77        |
| a. Overview                                      | 77        |
| b. Bourdieu and ANT                              | 80        |
| Structuration and ANT                            | 82        |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| a. Giddens   | 83         |
| b. Strong Structuration Theory                                       | 85         |
| c. Strong Structuration Theory and ANT                               | 86         |
| Elias, Figuration and ANT  | 89         |
| a. Elias   | 89         |
| b. Elias and ANT   | 90         |
| Conclusion   | 94         |
| 6 ON SOME DISCIPLINARY TRANSLATIONS OF ANT                    | 95  |
| Introduction   | 95         |
| ANT and Some Recent Social Theory                                    | 96         |
| a. Urry and Mobilities   | 96         |
| b. Thrift – Toward the Non-Representational                          | 99         |
| ANT and ‘New Economic Sociology’                                     | 101        |
| a. Callon and the ‘New Economic Sociology’                           | 101        |
| b. The Plastic Bottle as Device                                      | 103        |
| Management and Organizational Studies                                | 105        |
| a. Translations of ANT   | 106        |
| b. Czarniawska and Action Nets                                       | 108        |
| (Element of) Geography   | 110        |
| a. ANT and Spatiality  | 110        |
| b. The More-than-Human   | 112        |
| Conclusion   | 114        |
| 7 ON SOME POST-ANTs   | 115 |
| Introduction   | 115        |
| Concern, Composition and the Common World                            | 117        |
| Performativity and Politics  | 120        |
| a. Ontological Multiplicity  | 120        |
| b. Interdisciplinarity   | 123        |
| Cosmopolitics  | 125        |
| a. Stengers  | 126        |
| b. Hybrid Forums   | 128        |
| ‘Matters of Care’  | 130        |
| Doing Methodology  | 132        |
| a. Method Assemblage   | 133        |
| b. Research Event  | 134        |
| Speculation  | 136        |
| Conclusion   | 138        |
| 8 CONCLUSIONS: SOME PROSPECTS AND SOME PRACTICAL ORIENTATIONS | 139 |
| Introduction   | 139        |
| One Overview and Eight Regrets                                       | 139        |

|    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 88 | Composing Some More Post-ANTs                         | 142 |
| 87 | a. Nonhuman Animals, Humans, Agencies                 | 143 |
| 86 | b. Disasters, Topologies, Ironies                     | 144 |
| 89 | c. Experience, Knowledge, Distribution                | 145 |
| 89 | d. Publics, Issues, Devices                           | 146 |
| 90 | e. Digital, Social, Method                            | 148 |
| 94 | How to do Post-ANT                                    | 151 |
|    | A Selective Glossary of ANT and Post-ANT Terms | 153 |
|    | References                                     | 165 |
|    | Index  | 184 |