

Contents

	Acknowledgements	vii
	Editors and contributors	ix
Chapter 1	Professional social work and the professional social work identity Jonathan Parker and Mark Doel	1
Chapter 2	Being a social work professional Malcolm Payne	19
Chapter 3	Practising reflexivity: nurturing humane practice Sue White	39
Chapter 4	Understanding contemporary social work: we need to talk about relationships Gillian Ruch	54
Chapter 5	The emotionally competent professional Neil Thompson	68
Chapter 6	The new radical social work professional? Gurnam Singh and Stephen Cowden	81
Chapter 7	Ethical tensions in social work Steven M. Shardlow	98

Chapter 8	Professionalism and practice-focused research	116
	Roger Smith
Chapter 9	Understanding continuing professional development	132
	Patricia Higham
Chapter 10	Understanding and using supervision in social work	152
	Marion Bogo
Chapter 11	Working with the media	171
	Ray Jones
Chapter 12	Fifty years of professional regulation in social work education	188
	Graham Ixer
Chapter 13	Professional social work in the future	207
	Mark Doel and Jonathan Parker
	Index	213