

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Abbreviations	xi
1 Introduction	1
2 The 1920s: Diversity and the Beginnings of Professionalism	7
3 In Search of Professional Standards: Changes in the AASW Membership Requirements	27
4 Social Workers and Political Action: AASW Involvement in Social Planning During the Depression	51
5 Social Work and Public Service: Efforts Toward a Professional Public Welfare Program	77
6 Confusion and Consolidation: Professional Identification During World War II	103
7 Public Service Versus Professional Standards: Conflict in Social Work Education in the 1940s	125
8 Broadening the Knowledge Base: Social Work's Use of Social Science in the 1950s	151
9 Attempts at Unity: Formation of the National Association of Social Workers	185
10 Conclusion	211
Bibliographical Note	223
Bibliography	227
Index	237