

Contents

1. Introduction	1
2. The Purity of the Pure Theory of Law	5
I. What is the Pure Theory of Law?	5
II. The Contest of Standpoints	6
III. The Kantian Manoeuvre.....	7
IV. The Purity of the Pure Theory	11
V. The Primitive Function of the Law.....	12
VI. The Demand Model of the Functioning of Law	16
3. Law as an Order of Force or Violence	21
I. Law and Violence	21
II. The Germ of Law	22
III. Violence and Self-Help in Roman Law	25
IV. The Effectiveness of Law	28
V. Force as Content of the Law	32
VI. Law and State	37
VII. Criticism	45
4. Law as Permission	53
I. Introduction	53
II. Empowerment	55
III. Permission.....	62
IV. The Naturalistic Logic of Permission.....	65
V. The Functioning of Permissions.....	72
VI. Exclusionary Permissions?	76
5. The Law as a Schema of Interpretation.....	79
I. Introduction.....	79
II. Schemata, Fictions and Institutional Facts	80
III. Schemata and Imagination.....	84
IV. Law and Order	87
6. Normative Monism.....	91
I. Introduction.....	91
II. Legal Monism.....	92
III. Normative Monism.....	98
IV. The Great Incompatibility.....	102
V. The Normative Jinx.....	113

7. Absolute Positivism	117
I. Introduction	117
II. Relative Positivism	119
III. Absolute Positivism Projected	120
IV. Agrippa's Trilemma	122
V. Absolute Positivism Developed	125
VI. Law as Legal Process	127
VII. The Basic Norm	135
8. Conclusion	138
 Bibliography	140
Index	147