

CONTENTS

Preface	xiii
Abbreviations	xvii
Introduction: Church and State?	1
Part I: The Business of the Peace and the Faith	29
Chapter 1: Enemies of the Faith and of the Peace	33
Chapter 2: Enemies of the King and the Church	53
Chapter 3: For the Extirpation of Heretical Depravity and for the Conservation of the Peace	75
Chapter 4: From the Duty of Royal Power	95
Chapter 5: Desiring That the King Not Gain Some Advantage from This Violence	113
Chapter 6: Gird Thy Sword upon Thy Thigh, O Thou Most Powerful (Ps 44)	145
Part II: Counsel and Aid	167
Chapter 7: The Lord King Orders That the Plain Truth Be Found	177
Chapter 8: The Spiritual and the Temporal	219
Chapter 9: Counsel and Aid	249
Chapter 10: In the Fullness of Royal Power	275
Part III: The Fullness of Papal Power	311
Chapter 11: In the Image of a Proconsul	315
Chapter 12: With the Counsel and Assent of the King	339
Chapter 13: Sede Vacante	371
Part IV: Conclusions: St. Thomas Aquinas and the "Most Christian Kingdom"	393
Chapter 14: The New Law and the Two Swords	397
Chapter 15: The Most Christian Kingdom	449
Bibliography	455
Index	479