

CONTENTS

List of tables	x
List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xiv

Introduction: rethinking the idea of nature	1
Aurélie Choné, Isabelle Hajek and Philippe Hamman

PART I Values and actions 11

1 Environmental ethics: respect and responsibility	15
Catherine Larrère
2 Ecosophy: 'How deep is your ecology'?	27
Hicham-Stéphane Afeissa
3 Ecospirituality	38
Aurélie Choné
4 Ecopsychology: the psyche and the environment	49
Dennis L. Merritt

PART II

Writings and representations

63

- 5 The aesthetics of nature

67

Nathalie Blanc

- 6 Ecocriticism

75

Emmanuelle Peraldo

- 7 Epistemocritical perspectives on nature: nature in culture

83

Laurence Dahan

PART III

Movements, activism and societies

93

- 8 From Lebensreform to political ecology

97

Catherine Repussard

- 9 Ecofeminism

106

Margot Lauwers

- 10 From environmental sociology to ecosociologies

114

Graham Woodgate

- 11 From anthropogeography to ethnoecology: is social evolutionism also natural evolutionism?

128

Éric Navet

PART IV

Renewed ecologies

141

- 12 Rethinking rural nature in the era of ecocide

145

Owain Jones

- 13 Urban ecology

158

Isabelle Hajek and Jean-Pierre Lévy

- 14 Nature, environment and health

166

Lionel Charles

- 15 Sustainable urbanism

176

Philippe Hamman

16	Industrial ecology: between model and metaphor: visions of nature in industrial ecology Nicolas Buclet	187
17	The ecosystem services paradigm: rise, scope and limits Roldan Muradian	195
PART V
	Human–animal	209
18	Ecocide, ethnocide and civilizations: multiple ways of destroying life Éric Navet	211
19	Animal studies Roland Borgards	221
20	Constructing an animal history Éric Baratay	232
21	Outlook: environmental humanities Sabine Wilke	243
	Conclusion: how nature matters Aurélie Choné, Isabelle Hajek and Philippe Hamman	254
	Index	259