

1. INTRODUCTION	4
2. THEORY AND METHODS OF THE MIGRATION	8
2.1. Czech and foreign literature discussion	8
2.2. Sources of data and methodology of process	14
3. INTERPRETATION OF THE MIGRATION DEVELOPMENT IN THE AREA OF THE FORMER NORTHERN BOHEMIA REGION BEFORE 1989	18
3.1. Geographic characteristics of the North Bohemian region	18
3.2. Migration of population by the end of the 1980s; significant migration waves	24
3.3. Analysis of migration in the years 1983 – 1988	28
3.3.1. Inter-regional migration within districts of the North Bohemian Region	31
3.3.2. Inter-regional migration within the regions	37
3.3.3. Cities	42
3.3.4. Typology of important towns (centres of settlement)	49
4. INTERPRETATION OF THE MIGRATION DEVELOPMENT IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC AFTER 1989	53
4.1. Analysis of the migratory development of population in the Czech Republic at the level of inter-regional migration	56
4.2. Analysis of migration in the largest cities	72
4.2.1. The capital city of Prague	72
4.2.2. The Moravian metropolis Brno	80
4.2.3. The western Bohemia city Plzeň	84
4.3. The Analysis of the migration of the residents in the region Ústí nad Labem	89
5. CURRENT TRENDS IN INTERNAL MIGRATION IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC, AND CONCLUDING NOTES	93
5.1. Migration after 2003	93
5.2. Concluding notes	97
6. REFERENCES	102