

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Foreword	viii
ELDBJØRG LØWER
 Introduction	 1
 PART I
Intelligence oversight, international relations and law	5
 1 Intelligence and oversight at the outset of the twenty-first century	 7
IAN LEIGH AND NJORD WEGGE
 2 Contemporary and future challenges to effective intelligence oversight	 25
NJORD WEGGE AND THORSTEN WETZLING
 PART II
National perspectives on oversight	41
 3 Is effective oversight possible?: the rising influence of Norway's intelligence service	 43
TORMOD HEIER
 4 The Romanian experience of intelligence oversight	 57
TEODORA FUIOR
 5 Reappraising intelligence oversight in the UK	 75
IAN LEIGH

vi Contents

6	The rule of law and 25 years of intelligence oversight in an ever-changing world: the Belgian case	97
	WAUTER VAN LAETHEM
7	The intensification of French intelligence and its oversight under the impact of counter-terrorism	124
	BERTRAND WARUSFEL
8	Intelligence and oversight: a view of the US system	135
	GENEVIEVE LESTER AND JEFFREY ROGG
9	Canada's security and intelligence community after 9/11: key challenges and conundrums	152
	CRAIG FORCESE
10	Intelligence governance in post-Cold War Germany: a steady beat of constant trouble?	170
	THORSTEN WETZLING
PART III
	Conclusion	191
11	Concluding remarks: the future of intelligence oversight	193
	NJORD WEGGE
	Index	201