

Table of Contents

Introduction: Military Interventions in the Crosshairs of Interdisciplinary Research Christian Neuhäuser and Christoph Schuck	9
Rights or Duties to Intervene?
The Battle for the Better Argument: Military Interventions between Norms and Interest Matthias Heise and Christoph Schuck	27
Is There a Duty to Militarily Intervene to Stop a Genocide? Uwe Steinhoff	59
The Legitimacy of Military Interventions: An Analysis of Preemptive and Preventive Warfare and its Current Relevance Christopher Beuter	81
Dilemmas for Disaster Relief—The Cases of Myanmar, Haiti and Aceh through the Lens of National Sovereignty and International Intervention Kathrin Rucktäschel and Steve Schlegel	107
Challenging Interventionism in a Pluralist World
Humanitarian Intervention: Conceptual Debates in the West and in Southeast Asia Bob Sugeng Hadiwinata	129
Beyond Military Interventions? The Shanghai Cooperation Organisation and its Quest for cuius regio, eius dicio Enrico Fels	149

Turkmenistan's Policy of Neutrality: Between a Weak Military Force and the Anticipation of Potential Military Interventions by Diplomatic Means Zarifa Mamedova	193
Can an Illegal Humanitarian Intervention Be Justified for Moral Reasons Alone? Reinold Schmücker	217
States and Non-State Actors
Democratic War and Liberal Violence: On Ending the "Silent Treatment" Between Democratic War Research and Governmentality Studies Goetz Herrmann and Andreas Vasilache	239
Post Military Intervention: Protecting and Empowering Women in Post-Conflict Timor-Leste Sylvia Yazid	263
Who May Act? Legitimate Authority and Military Humanitarian Intervention Anna Goppel	285
Military Interventions, Private Military Companies and Citizen Responsibility Christian Neuhäuser	307
Contributors	327