

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
1 Introduction: or Baltic Defense in the Shadow of Ukraine	1
2 Great Power Geopolitics and Baltic Independence I: From the Tribes to 1795	19
The Baltic Tribes, the Baltic Crusade, and the Rise of Lithuania (1199–1290)	20
The Lifespan of Livonia (1290–1561)	27
The Duchy of Courland and Semigallia (1561–1795)	31
3 Great Power Geopolitics and Baltic Independence II: From 1795 to the Present	39
The Baltic Republics (1918–1940)	41
The Re-Emergence of the Baltic States (1989–)	53
Conclusion	63
4 Analogies for Contemporary West-Russia Relations	69
Analogizing West-Russia Relations: The (New) Cold War	70
Analogizing Russian Foreign Policy: Nazi Ethnic Foreign Policy	74

	Analogizing Putin: Yuri Andropov	78
	Analogizing the Baltic States: West Berlin	81
	Conclusion	86
5	Today's Strategic Actors in the Baltic I: NATO and Neutrals	91
	The Baltic States	91
	Baltic Militaries and Defense Policies	92
	Baltic Security Vulnerabilities	98
	The Rest of NATO	104
	Sweden and Finland	109
6	Today's Strategic Actors in the Baltic II: Russia	117
	Russian Geopolitical Thought	118
	Russian Strategic Culture	123
	Post-Cold War Russian Policy Toward the Baltic States	128
	Russian Military Reform and Estimated Capabilities	136
7	Strategic Interaction in Baltic Defense	147
	Deterrence	148
	Potential Russian Political Goals in War	152
	Potential Russian Strategies in War	155
	Access and Sanctuary: NATO's Strategic Considerations
	in a Conventional War	160
	War Termination	166
8	How Much Defense is Enough for the Baltic States	171
	Politics, Instrumentality, and Effect	172
	Military Strategy	175
	Adversary and Control	180
	Notes	183
	Bibliography	203
	Index	219