

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
Notes on contributors	xiii
Foreword: 'More hours in the day than anyone else': the multifaceted life of Deborah Howard by Patricia Fortini Brown	xix
Acknowledgements	xxxi
Abbreviations	xxxiii
Introduction: Reframing the Renaissance Nebahat Avcioğlu and Allison Sherman	1
Part I Another Rome
1 Planning for pilgrims: parallels between the burgh of St Andrews, the Vatican Borgo and Compostela Ian Campbell	15
2 Bad colours for the pope: Tintoretto, Giovanni Grimani and the decoration of the Cappella Gregoriana in New St Peter's Benjamin Paul	29
3 The one-room apartment of Cornelis Meijer Joseph Connors	45
4 'Un'architettura di diversi': Carlo Rainaldi and the controversial attribution of the Palazzo Mancini in Rome Manolo Guerci	65
Part II Peripatetics of knowledge and architectural practice
5 Live words and experience in early modern architecture Christy Anderson	77

6	Material matters: training the Renaissance architect Ann C. Huppert	89
7	Architectural treatises and the East Adriatic coast: cultural transfers and the circulation of knowledge in the Renaissance Jasenka Gudelj	107
Part III Networks, innovation and praxis
8	Painting together: 'a terrestrial trinity' of painters in the Quadro delle tre mani Philip Sohm	131
9	Milling the bread of salvation: art, patronage and technology in the de Lazara altarpiece in Padua Catherine Puglisi and William Barcham	149
10	Paolo Veronese invenit et delineavit David Rosand	175
Part IV The evolution and variation of an idea
11	Michelangelo's St Peter's and a neglected early drawing David Hemsoll	197
12	The chronology of Titian's versions of the Venus with a Mirror and the lost Venus for the Emperor Charles V Peter Humfrey	221
13	The portraits of a lady Paul Joannides	233
	Select bibliography	243
	Index	273