

CONTENTS

List of Figures vii

Notes on Contributors viii

Preface xii

Acknowledgments xiv

- 1 Introduction: Reimagining Childhood Studies:
Connectivities ... Relationalities ... Linkages ...
Spyros Spyrou, Rachel Rosen, and Daniel Thomas Cook 1

PART ONE Spatial and Temporal Challenges and Interventions

- 2 Childhood, Culture, History: Redeploying "Multiple Childhoods" Sarada Balagopalan 23
- 3 Geographies of Play: Scales of Imagination in the Study of Child-made Things Karen Sánchez-Eppler 41
- 4 Thinking the Adult–Child Relationship with Existentialism Clémentine Beauvais 57

PART TWO Rethinking Materiality and Political Economy

- 5 Childhood (Re)materialized: Bringing Political Economy
into the Field Jason Hart and Jo Boyden 75
- 6 Decolonizing Childhood Studies: Overcoming Patriarchy and Prejudice in Child-related Research and Practice Kristen Cheney 91

- 7 Children's Geographies and the "New Wave" of Childhood Studies Peter Kraftl and John Horton 105

PART THREE Decentering the Agentic Subject of Childhood Studies

- 8 Panaceas of Play: Stepping Past the Creative
Child Daniel Thomas Cook 123
- 9 Queer Young People of Color and the Affects of Agency Stephen Bernardini 137
- 10 Performative Politics and the Interview: Unraveling
Immigrant Children's Narrations and Identity
Performances Stavroula Kontovourki and Eleni Theodorou 153

PART FOUR Engagements with Political Subjects and Subjectivities

- 11 Who Is (to Be) the Subject of Children's Rights? Matías Cordero Arce 169
- 12 Reimagining Disabled Children within Childhood
Studies: The Challenge of Difference Mary Wickenden 183
- 13 What Space for a Children's Politics? Rethinking
Infancy in Childhood Studies David Oswell 199

Bibliography 212

Index 244