

Contents

---

About the editors	vii
List of contributors	viii
Series preface	xiv
Preface	xvi
1 Democratic empowerment in the European Union: an introduction	1
David Levi-Faur, Nir Kostı and Frans van Waarden
2 Involvement of national parliaments in the political system of the European Union: a way for democratic empowerment?	15
Petr Kaniok
3 Political inequality and democratic empowerment in the European Union: the role of the European Parliament	40
Sandra Seubert, Oliver Eberl and Daniel Gaus
4 Taking stock of the European Citizens' Initiative: democratic potential and possible institutional trajectories	63
Fernando Mendez, Roman Zwicky and Daniel Kübler
5 The European Ombudsman	85
Marco Inglese and Tom Binder
6 Direct democracy in the European Union: an option for democratic empowerment?	108
Francis Cheneval and Mónica Ferrín
7 Empowering for a European civic culture: European Union citizenship education, access to rights and political participation	137
Wieger Bakker, Marlot van der Kolk and Viktor Koska
8 Competition law and democratic empowerment in the European Union	155
Anna Gerbrandy and Rutger Fransen
9 Regulation by litigation as a form of empowerment	182
Christoph Struenck

10	How financial market constraints and technocratic decision making impacted on European political citizenship and democracy during the euro crisis Robert Csehi and Uwe Puetter	215
11	The financialization of European Union citizenship: an alternative to democratic empowerment Hanan Haber and David Levi-Faur	239
12	Is democratic empowerment enough? The lessons of Brexit for the future of the European Union Keren Winter-Dinur, Nir Kosti, David Levi-Faur and Guy Mor	269
	Index	281