Contents

1 Introduction to the restoration of motion picture film mark-Paul Meyer 22 Iight, sound and audiovisual perception 9 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 25 Scratch treatments 25 Film bases and tests 25 Film charmost printing and post-production 25 Editing, cutting and post-production 27 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 45 Motion picture film materials 45 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 28 Sensitometry and quality control 19 Principles of duplication and contrast control 19 Principles of duplication and contrast control 19 Principles of duplication and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of faltural colour film 19 Restoration of faltural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 20 Video images and digital restoration 38 Notes on the schematic diagrams of 19 Processing 10 Principles on the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 Slack and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298 Notes on the schematic diagrams of	Editors' preface		vii	PART 4 TECHNIQUES AND CASE STUDIES reconstruction and documentation case study Mark-Paul Meyer PART 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception perc motion picture film Mark-Paul Meyer PART 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 9 3 Before motion pictures 12 5 Talking motion pictures 12 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 45 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of a Restoration of film sound 17 Restoration of film sound 18 Restoration of film sound 22 Identify Martin Koerber 22 The reconstruction of F.W. Murnau's Faust (1926): a case study Luciano Berriatúa 242 Luciano Berriatúa 25 Faust (1926): a case study Luciano Berriatúa 26 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of a grader trai	1	Introduction to the restoration of		-
Mark-Paul Meyer PART 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 9 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 252 A The film making industry 18 26 Film cements 255 Talking motion pictures 25 Z7 Printers for shrunken film 258 Editing, cutting and post-production 35 Z8 Production of a grader training aid 262 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film materials 45 In Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 40 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 40 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 40 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 41 Principles of duplication and contrast control 41 Principles of duplication of early coloured films 41 Restoration of film sound 42 Pagates and prints 42 Pagates and prints 42 Pagates and prints 43 Principles of duplication of early coloured films 51 Restoration of film sound 52 Pagates and prints 52 Pagates and tests 524 Deshrinking and other treatments 525 Scratch treatments 525 Scratch treatments 525 Scratch treatments 525 Printers for shrunken film 52 Printers for shr	-		1			231
PART 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 3 Before motion pictures 4 The film making industry 5 Talking motion pictures 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 45 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Printing 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of fatural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 22 The reconstruction of F.W. Murnau's Faust (1926): a case study 242 Luciano Berriatúa 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 252 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 257 Printers for shrunken film 258 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of			•			231
PART 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 9 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 252 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 257 Scratch treatments 258 Scratch treatments 257 Scratch treatments 258 Scratch treatments 258 Scratch treatments 259 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 257 Printers for shrunken film 258 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of archive film 269 Slack and white duplication of archive film 269 Slack and white duplication of archive film 269 Slack and white duplication of archive film 271 Sensitive film 271 Slack and white duplication 271 Slack and white dupli		Tribite 1 del 120 y C.		22
TECHNOLOGY 2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 2 Deshrinking and other treatments 3 Defore motion pictures 4 The film making industry 5 Talking motion pictures 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 13 Printing 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 20 Jeshrinking and other treatments 25 Scratch treatments 25 Scratch treatments 25 Scratch treatments 25 Scratch treatments 25 Print cements 25 Print cements 26 Film cements 26 Film cements 27 Printers for shrunken film 28 Production of a grader training aid 26 Production of a grader training aid 26 Plashing techniques for film 26 Plashing techniques for film 27 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 27 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 Everoding and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 29 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Talking and other treatments 257 Printers for shrunken film 258 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of a grader training aid 263 Plashing techniques for film 269 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication of colour intermediate film 2	DAI	RT 1 CINEMATOGRAPHIC				242
2 Light, sound and audiovisual perception 9 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 252 Scratch treatments 253 Scratch treatments 253 Scratch treatments 254 The film making industry 18 26 Film cements 255 Talking motion pictures 25 27 Printers for shrunken film 258 Editing, cutting and post-production 35 28 Production of a grader training aid 262 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 53 Plashing techniques for film 269 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 25 Sensitometry and quality control 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication and duplication of early coloured films 15 Restoration of natural colour film 195 Restoration of film sound 25 Scratch treatments 252 Scratch treatments 255 Scratch treatments 252 Princies for shrunken film 258 Prioduction of a grader training aid 262 Policien of a grader training						212
perception 9 24 Deshrinking and other treatments 252 3 Before motion pictures 12 25 Scratch treatments 255 4 The film making industry 18 26 Film cements 257 5 Talking motion pictures 25 27 Printers for shrunken film 258 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 40 29 Black and white duplication 260 8 Motion picture film materials 45 30 Flashing techniques for film 260 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 53 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 50 Flashing techniques for film 260 9 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 31 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 8 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 31 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 105 126 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 210 Sensitometry and quality control 18 Restoration of natural colour film 195 Restoration of film sound 220 Described treatments 252 Scratch treatments 252 Film cements 257 18 Printers for shrunken film 258 Production of a grader training aid 262 9 Black and white duplication methods 269 10 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 12 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 13 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 14 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 15 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 16 Duplication of colour prints using colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 18 Black and white duplication of duplication of duplication of colour prints using colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 18 Black and white duplication of archive film 250 29 Duplication of colour prints using col	-			23		247
3 Before motion pictures 4 The film making industry 5 Talking motion pictures 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 6 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 19 Restoration of film sound 25 Scratch treatments 26 Film cements 26 Film cements 26 Film cements 27 Printers for shrunken film 28 Production of a grader training aid 262 Black and white duplication and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 27 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films other useful data for duplication of Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Plack and white duplication of archive film 29 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Black and white duplication of archive film 29 Diagral tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Diagral tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 29 Diagral tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Diagral tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Diagral tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Diagral tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Diagral tints	-	0	9
4 The film making industry 5 Talking motion pictures 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and duplication of early coloured films 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 18 Restoration of film sound 19 Restoration of film sound 26 Film cements 25 Printers for shrunken film 26 Production of a grader training aid 262 27 Printers for shrunken film 28 Production of a grader training aid 262 28 Production of a grader training aid 262 29 Black and white duplication 26 Prestoration and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 27 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 Production of a grader training aid 262 29 Black and white duplication 260 260 27 Printers for shrunken film 260 28 Black and white duplication 270 27 Printers for shrunken film 260 28 Black and white duplication 260 27 Principles for film 271 28 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 I Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 28 Production of colour negatives 29 Unional tinting and toning techniques 29 Duplication for the restoration of archive film 29 Duplication of colour negatives 29 Unional tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Unional tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Unional tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Unional tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Unional tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 29 Unional	3
5 Talking motion pictures 6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 22 Sensitometry and quality control 23 Principles of duplication and contrast control 25 Control 26 Processing 27 Printers for shrunken film 258 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of the restoration of archive film 271 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 266 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 295 Prates Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 296 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 296 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 296 Production of film 29 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of film 296 Production of a grader training aid 262 Production of	20			100
6 Editing, cutting and post-production 7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 14 Grading 15 Processing 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 29 Black and white duplication methods 30 Flashing techniques for film 269 31 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 269 32 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 33 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 37 Black and white duplication methods 30 Flashing techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 269 38 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 39 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 39 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 30 Flashing techniques for film 269 31 Recording and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 31 30 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 31 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 32 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 31 Principles of duplication and contrast control 35 32 Duplication of colour prints using colour intermediate film stocks 295 31 Processing 31 Processing 32 Processing 33 Processing 34 Laboratory Aim Density values an
7 Colour 8 Motion picture film materials 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 2 Sensitometry and quality control 3 Principles of duplication and contrast control 2 Processing 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of a Restoration of natural colour film 18 Restoration of film sound 29 Black and white duplication methods 266 30 Flashing techniques for film 269 31 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 32 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 33 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 37 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298	700
8 Motion picture film materials 9 PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 19 Restoration of film sound 20 Flashing techniques for film 269 30 Flashing techniques for film 269 31 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 32 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 33 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 15 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 16 Processing 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 29 Restoration of film sound 20 Flashing techniques for film 269 31 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 32 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 33 The Desmet method for restoring 287 44 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 54 Duplication of colour negatives 293 55 Duplication of colour prints using 295 56 Duplication of colour prints using 295 57 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring 298 58 Cording and teneroducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 59 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 59 Duplication of colour prints using 295 50 Duplication of colour prints using 295 51 Duplication of colour prints 295						202
PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 22 Sensitometry and quality control 33 Principles of duplication and contrast control 45 Principles of duplication and contrast control 56 Processing 167 Restoration of natural colour film 188 Restoration of film sound 199 Finsting 198 Restoration of film sound 200 Flashing techniques for film 269 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 Principles of film 269 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 Principles of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 Using colour intermediate film stocks 293 Colour intermediate film stocks 293 Colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 269 Principles of film sound 271 Colour negatives and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 Principles of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 Using colour intermediate film stocks 293 Duplication of colour prints using colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Using Colour negatives and prints 269 Principles of film sound 270 Principles of film sound 280 Principles of film sound 281 Principles of film 281 Principles of film 282 Principles of film 283 Principles of film 284 Principles of film 285 Principle				-/		266
PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM 9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 53 Interpretation of film restoration and film reconstruction 69 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND FILM 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 69 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 11 Film damage, repair and preparation Sensitometry and quality control 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of film sound 19 Restoration of film sound 20 Original tinting and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 27 PRESTORATION 28 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 28 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 30 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 29 Uplication of colour negatives 29 using colour intermediate film 27 Source film 28 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 30 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 29 Uplication of colour negatives 29 Uplication of colour prints using colour intermegative (or camera negative) film stocks 29 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 29 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 31 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 28 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 29 Part 4 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 32 Recording and toning techniques and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 29 Part 4 Pa		motion picture min materials	1,	30
9 Identification of archive film and interpretation of historical data 53 10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 69 PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND 71 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Principles of duplication and contrast control 15 Principles of duplication and duplication of early coloured films 180 18 Restoration of nitural colour film 195 19 Restoration of historical data 53 and their adaption for the restoration of archive film 271 32 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 33 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 37 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298	PART 2 RECONSTRUCTING A FILM
interpretation of historical data Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION Film damage, repair and preparation Sensitometry and quality control Principles of duplication and contrast control Principles of duplication and duplication of early coloured films Restoration of historical data 53 of archive film 271 Recording and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 38 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 39 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 294 395 396 397 398 398 399 399 399 399 390 399 390				5.
10 Principles of film restoration and film reconstruction 11 Film damage, repair and preparation sensitometry and quality control sensitometry and quality control sensitometry and quality control sensition and contrast control searly coloured films sensitometrial Restoration of natural colour film sectoration of film sound sensitoring sectoration of film sound sensitoring and reproducing the original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition sensition and toned films sensition and toned films sensition and toned films sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study sensition and toned films sensition and toned films sensition and toned films sensition and toned films sensition (1912).			53			271
reconstruction 69 original tints and tones of Quo Vadis (1912): a technical case study 281 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 Printing 126 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 Principles of duplication and contrast control 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using 293 Processing 167 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 180 Restoration of film sound 290 Restoration of film sound 291 Restoration of film sound 291 Restoration of film sound 291 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 Duplication of colour negatives 180 Stocks 293 Colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298	10		-	32		2/1
PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 12 Sensitometry and quality control 105 13 Printing 126 35 Duplication of colour negatives 14 Grading 149 Using colour intermediate film 15 Principles of duplication and contrast 15 Processing 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 180 Restoration of film sound 190 (1912): a technical case study 281 The Desmet method for restoring 181 tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and 287 other useful data for duplication 291 using colour intermediate film 293 stocks 293 (293 colour internegative (or camera 295 negative) film stocks 295 duplication of 295 duplicating, preserving and restoring 297 colour negatives and prints 298 (298 colour negatives and prints 298 colour negatives and 29				22
PART 3 IMAGE AND SOUND RESTORATION 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 83 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 13 Printing 126 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 14 Grading 149 using colour intermediate film stocks 293 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 18 Restoration of natural colour film 195 Restoration of film sound 290 33 The Desmet method for restoring tinted and toned films 287 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 37 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298			0,			281
Tinted and toned films 287 11 Film damage, repair and preparation 83 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 12 Sensitometry and quality control 105 other useful data for duplication 291 13 Printing 126 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 14 Grading 149 using colour intermediate film stocks 293 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 16 Processing 167 colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 18 Restoration of natural colour film 195 duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298	PAI	RT 3 IMAGE AND SOUND		33		201
Film damage, repair and preparation 83 34 Laboratory Aim Density values and other useful data for duplication 291 35 Duplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 Restoration of film sound 290 table and other useful data for duplication 291 and other useful data for duplication 291 buplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film stocks 293 colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 295 duplication of duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298				00		287
12 Sensitometry and quality control 13 Printing 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of 18 Restoration of film 19 Restoration of film sound 105 other useful data for duplication 126 35 Duplication of colour negatives 13 using colour intermediate film 14 stocks 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using 167 colour internegative (or camera 17 negative) film stocks 180 37 Black and white separations for 180 duplicating, preserving and restoring 190 colour negatives and prints 190 colour negatives and prints 190 colour negatives and prints 191 colour negatives 192 colour negatives 193 colour negatives 195 colour negatives 196 colour negatives 197 colour negatives 198 colour negatives 199 colour n			83	34		20,
13 Printing 14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 10 Supplication of colour negatives using colour intermediate film 16 Stocks 17 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 18 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 19 Restoration of film sound 19 Colour negatives 293 Colour negatives 295 Colour negatives 296 Colour negatives 297 Colour negatives 298 Colour negatives 299 Colour negatives	12	Sensitometry and quality control		-		291
14 Grading 15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 10 Using colour intermediate film 10 Stocks 10 Duplication of colour prints using 10 colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 10 Duplication of colour prints using 10 Colour intermediate film 11 Stocks 12 Duplication of colour prints using 12 Colour intermediate film 13 Stocks 14 Duplication of colour prints using 15 Colour intermediate film 16 Stocks 17 Duplication of colour prints using 18 Colour intermediate film 19 Stocks 29 Colour intermediate film 29 Colour prints using 29 Colour intermediate film 29 Colour intermediate film 29 Colour prints using 29 Colour intermediate film 29 Colour in	13	Printing		35		-/-
15 Principles of duplication and contrast control 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 293 294 295 296 297 298 299 299 299 299 299 299 299 299 299				22
control 157 36 Duplication of colour prints using 16 Processing 167 colour internegative (or camera 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 180 37 Black and white separations for 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 298			/			293
16 Processing 17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 167 colour internegative (or camera negative) film stocks 180 37 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 19 Restoration of film sound 295		control	157	36		2/3
17 The restoration and duplication of early coloured films 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 295 180 37 Black and white separations for duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298	16			50
early coloured films 180 37 Black and white separations for 18 Restoration of natural colour film 19 Restoration of film sound 19 Restoration of film sound 210 colour negatives and prints 298			10,			295
18 Restoration of natural colour film 195 duplicating, preserving and restoring colour negatives and prints 298		early coloured films	180	37		-//
19 Restoration of film sound 210 colour negatives and prints 298	18			51
	19	Restoration of film sound				298
				38		-,0
of archival film 216 Technicolor restoration routes 304		of archival film	216	50		304

	Notes on restoring subtractive two-colour process prints Sound restoration case studies	310 314	Glossary of terms Bibliography	317 342
			Index	357