

Contents

Notes on contributors		v
List of acronyms		viii
Glossary		x
Preface		xiii
Introduction
one	Citizenship, changing labour markets and welfare policies: an introduction Jørgen Goul Andersen and Per H. Jensen	I
two	Internationalisation and the labour market of the European Union Peter Plougmann	15
Changing interactions between policies and citizenship
three	Citizenship and changing welfare states Ruth Lister	39
four	Work and citizenship: unemployment and unemployment policies in Denmark, 1980-2000 Jørgen Goul Andersen	59
five	New institutional forms of welfare production: some implications for citizenship Willem Trommel and Bert de Vroom	85
The cause and effect of welfare policies on citizenship
six	Unemployment, welfare policies and citizenship: different paths in Western Europe Jørgen Goul Andersen and Knut Halvorsen	107
seven	Youth unemployment, welfare and political participation: a comparative study of six countries Torild Hammer	129
eight	Ethnicity, racism and the labour market: a European perspective Gary Craig	149
nine	From externalisation to integration of older workers: institutional changes at the end of the worklife Bert de Vroom and Anne Marie Guillemard	183

ten	Movements by the unemployed in France and social protection: the Fonds d'urgence sociale experience Denis Bouget	209
eleven	Changing welfare states and labour markets in the context of European gender arrangements Birgit Pfau-Effinger	235
Conclusions
twelve	A second order reflection on the concepts of inclusion and exclusion Asmund Born and Per H. Jensen	257
thirteen	Concluding remarks Jørgen Goul Andersen and Per H. Jensen	281
Index		289