

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	x
Preface and Acknowledgements	xi
1 The Social Construction of Social Work Theory	1
What this book is about	1
The politics of social work and its practice 'theories'	4
Cultural differences in social work 'theories'	7
Constructing social work	13
Social work construction and the construction of 'theory'	21
Conclusion	24
2 Using Social Work Theory in Practice	26
What this chapter is about	26
What are social work practice 'theories'?	26
Social work and related theories	34
The politics of social work theory and application	41
Thinking theoretically in practice	48
Analyses of social work theories	57
Conclusion	71
3 Psychodynamic Perspectives	72
Wider theoretical perspectives	72
Connections	76
The politics of psychodynamic theory	77
Woods and Hollis: psychosocial therapy	79
Alternative psychodynamic formulations of social work	85
Therapeutic environments: an application to residential care	90
Commentary	91
4 Crisis Intervention and Task-centred Models	95
Wider theoretical perspectives	95
Connections	96
The politics of crisis and task-centred theory	98
Crisis intervention: Naomi Golan	99
Task-centred casework: Reid and Epstein	104
Commentary	112

5	Cognitive-behavioural Theories	114
	Wider theoretical perspectives	114
	Connections	120
	The politics of cognitive-behavioural theory	122
	Sheldon: cognitive-behavioural therapy	124
	Group and community behavioural techniques	132
	Residential work	133
	Commentary	135
6	Systems and Ecological Perspectives	137
	Wider theoretical perspectives	137
	Connections	139
	The politics of systems theory	140
	Applying systems theory to social work practice:
	Pincus and Minahan	141
	Ecological systems theory: the life model	143
	Networking and social support systems	150
	Atherton: systems in residential care	152
	Commentary	153
7	Social Psychological and Communication Models	157
	Wider theoretical perspectives	157
	Connections	158
	The politics of social psychological and communication models	159
	Role theory	160
	Communication theory in social work	164
	Commentary	171
8	Humanist and Existential Perspectives	174
	Wider theoretical perspectives	174
	Connections	175
	The politics of humanist and existential theory	176
	Some humanist influences on social work	178
	Glassman and Kates: humanistic groupwork	186
	Thompson: existentialism and social work	190
	Commentary	195

9	Social and Community Development	198
	Wider theoretical perspectives	198
	Connections	202
	The politics of social and community development	204
	Social development ideas	206
	Midgley: social development	208
	Commentary	213
10	Radical and Marxist Perspectives	214
	Wider theoretical perspectives	214
	Connections	215
	The politics of radical social work	218
	Mullaly: structural social work	221
	Fook: radical casework	227
	Radical residential work	233
	Commentary	233
11	Anti-discriminatory and Anti-oppressive Perspectives	238
	Wider theoretical perspectives	238
	Connections	240
	The politics of anti-oppressive theory	246
	Hanmer and Statham: women-centred work	254
	Dalrymple and Burke: anti-oppressive practice	258
	Commentary	262
12	Empowerment and Advocacy	266
	Wider theoretical perspectives	266
	Connections	267
	The politics of empowerment and advocacy	275
	Black empowerment: Barbara Solomon	276
	Mullender and Ward: self-directed groupwork	280
	Learned helplessness theory	283
	Commentary	284
13	Assessing Social Work Theories	286
	Evaluating social work theories	286
	Theories and social work	294
	The future politics of social work theory	297
	Bibliography	299
	Index	341