

Contents

List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xiii
Preface	xv
Acknowledgments	xvii

I INTRODUCTION

1 The Division of Labor and Occupational Stratification	1
Organization of the Volume	2
A Theory of Occupational Prestige	5
Alternative Possibilities	22

II SETTING THE STAGE: DATA, METHODS, AND BASIC RESULTS

2 Problems of Method in Comparing Occupational Prestige Systems	25
Do "Occupational Prestige" Studies Actually Measure Prestige?	26
Data and Data Quality	29
Variation in the Rating Task	42
Combining Several Studies from One Country	45
Comparing Occupational Titles across Countries	46
Summary	57

3	Intrasocietal Consensus in Occupational Prestige Evaluations	59
	Subgroup Variations in Prestige Ratings	61
	How Representative Are Students in Their Occupational Evaluations?	67
	Urban-Rural and Regional Variations	70
	Variation over Time	74
	Summary	78
4	The Extent of Intersocietal Similarity in Occupational Prestige Hierarchies	79
	Extent of Prestige Similarity	79
	Regional and Cultural Variations	97
	Ratings of Nonmanual and Manual Occupations	99
	Summary	102

III ISSUES OF SUBSTANCE

5	Explaining the Worldwide Similarity in Prestige Hierarchies	103
	Determinants of Prestige in Contemporary Societies	104
	Occupational Structures in Past Societies	116
	Conclusions	128
6	Prestige and Industrialization	129
	Prestige Similarity and Social Structure	129
	Pairwise Comparisons	137
	Summary	139
7	Cross-Cultural Variations in Prestige Evaluations of Particular Occupations: Exceptions that Prove the Rule	141
	Cultural Variations in Prestige Evaluations	143
	The Glorification of Manual Work in Socialist Society	144
	Variations in the Structural Bases of Prestige	148
	Cross-Cultural Variations in the Prestige of 50 Common Occupations	153
	Conclusions	157

IV A STANDARD INTERNATIONAL OCCUPATIONAL PRESTIGE SCALE

8	Developing the Scale	159
	The Need for a Standard International Occupational Prestige Scale	159
	Constructing the Scale	166

Properties of the Scale	172
Validating the Scale	175
Summary	184
Appendix 8.1
Conversion of Prestige Data to a Standard Metric	184
Appendix 8.2
Reliability and Errors of Estimate	186
9 Using the Scale	191
Uses of the Scale	192
Practical Procedures for Using the Scale	195
A Nominal Classification of Occupations	203
Comparing the Standard Scale with Duncan's Socioeconomic Index	208
Summary	213
Appendix 9.1
Coding Rules for Assigning Standard Scale Scores	214
V
CONCLUSION
10 Occupational Prestige and Social Structure	223
Summary of the Argument	223
Limitations of the Analysis and Future Research Needs	226
On the Inevitability of Stratification and the Dignity of Work	230
 Appendix A
Standard International Occupational Prestige Scale	235
 Appendix B
Alphabetical Index to Standard Scale	261
 Appendix C
Standard Scale Scores for Other Occupational Classifications
1 Standard Scale Scores for the International Standard Classification of Occupations (first edition, 1958)	279
2 Standard Scale Scores for the 1950 U.S. Census Detailed Occupational Classification	293
3 Standard Scale Scores for the 1960 U.S. Census Detailed Occupational Classification	299
4 Standard Scale Scores for the 1970 U.S. Census Detailed Occupational Classification	306

Appendix D		317
Occupational Prestige Scores for Each Country
References		495
Index		511