

Contents

Capitalism	1
Daron Acemoglu
Sola Protestantism in Economics	5
Rüdiger Bachmann
Economics Has Nothing to Do with Religion	9
Sascha O. Becker
More Choice Is Always Better	11
Christine Benesch
People Are Outcome Oriented	13
Matthias Benz
Deriving People's Trade Policy Preferences from Macroeconomic Trade Theory	15
Thomas Bernauer
Size (of Government) Doesn't Matter	17
Tim Besley
Bayesianism	21
Ken Binmore
The Return on Equity	23
Urs Birchler

Peak Oil Theory	27
Charles B. Blankart
More Choice Is Always Better	29
Alan S. Blinder
(Un)Productive Labor	31
Monika Bütler
Volatility Is Risk	33
Peter Cauwels
Robots Will Take All Our Jobs	35
Reto Cueni
Economic Growth Increases People's Well-Being	37
Richard A. Easterlin
Big Data Predictions Devoid of Theory	39
Thomas Ehrmann
Government Debts Are a Burden on Future Generations	43
Reiner Eichenberger
Public Spending Reduces Unemployment	45
Lars P. Feld
The Capital Asset Pricing Model	47
Pablo Fernandez
Innovation Programs Lead to Innovation	51
Gerd Folkers
Factors of Production Are Homogenous Within Categories	55
Nicolai J. Foss
Individual Utility Depends Only on Absolute Consumption	57
Robert Frank
The Relative Price Effect Explains Behavior	59
Bruno S. Frey
The Precedence of Exchange over Production	61
Jetta Frost

Inequality Reduces Growth Clemens Fuest	63
Contingent Valuation, Willingness to Pay, and Willingness to Accept Victor Ginsburgh	65
Governments Must Reduce Budget Deficits Michael Graff	67
Reach for Your Dream Allan Guggenbühl	69
The EU's Competitiveness Authority Beat Gygi	71
Say's Law Jochen Hartwig	73
Boundedness of Rationality Jürg Helbling	75
Rational Expectations David F. Hendry	77
Letting Insolvent Banks Fail Gerard Hertig	79
Pleasantville Politics: Selecting Politicians According to Ability Bruno Heyndels	81
The Axioms of Revealed Preference John Kay	83
There Ain't No Such Thing as a Free Lunch: The Myth of Expansionary Consolidations Gebhard Kirchgässner	85
Government Hurts the Economy More Than It Helps Margaret Levi	87
The Motivated Armchair Approach to Preferences Siegwart Lindenberg	89
Economics Is Based on Scientific Methods Michael McAleer	91

The Death of Distance	93
Peter Nijkamp
Dump the Concept of Rationality Into the Deep Ocean	95
Karl-Dieter Opp
Pay for Performance Raises Performance	97
Margit Osterloh
Home Ownership Is Good	99
Andrew J. Oswald
Coase Theorem	101
Eric A. Posner
Poverty Is Good for Development	105
Martin Ravallion
Markets Are Efficient	107
Jean-Charles Rochet
CEOs Are Paid for Talent	109
Katja Rost
The Efficiency-Equity Tradeoff	111
Jeffrey D. Sachs
Deterministic Trend of Inequality	115
Christoph A. Schaltegger
Quantitative Easing	117
Kurt Schiltnknecht
Hosting the Olympic Games	119
Sascha L. Schmidt
Abolishing Cash as Solution Against the Evil	121
Friedrich Schneider
Receiving Money and Not Having to Work Raises Happiness	125
Ronnie Schöb
Saints in Public Office	127
Gerhard Schwarz
Helicopter Money	129
Hans-Werner Sinn

Decisions Are Deterministic Didier Sornette	131
Politicians Systematically Converge to the Median Voter David Stadelmann	133
Artists Are Poor and thus Unhappy Lasse Steiner	135
Returns on Educational Investments Are Highest for Early Childhood Interventions Elsbeth Stern	137
EU Centralization Armin Steuernagel	139
The Alleged Asymmetry in Maintaining a Fixed Exchange Rate Jan-Egbert Sturm	141
Governments Should Maximize the Happiness of the Population Alois Stutzer	145
Okun's Equality-Efficiency Trade-Off Mark Thoma	147
"A Rising Tide Raises All Boats" David Throsby	149
Social Cost Analysis Robert D. Tollison	151
Natural Resources Make Rich Rick van der Ploeg	153
The Natural Rate of Interest Is Positive Carl Christian von Weizsäcker	155
Europe's "Skill Shortage" Joachim Voth	157
Taxes Are Paid Because of Expected Punishment Hannelore Weck-Hannemann	159
Better Safe than Sorry Antoinette Weibel	161

The End of Work

Boris Zürcher

Postscript

Bruno S. Frey and David Iselin

163

165