

Table of Content

I. Sameness and Otherness in Philosophical Reflection

Naděžda Pelcová: How Else Can We Think about Otherness?	9
Anna Hogenová: Alterity as a Phenomenon	17
Eimantas Peicius, Skaiste Laskiene: Discrepancies of the Concept of Human Dignity in the Ethics Discourses	51
Michael Hauser: The Prague Spring 1968 as a Really Existing Alternative	55
Tomáš Samek: “Czechs are Germans”: Introducing the Concept of Gradient Identialterity	63
Nina V. Nalivayko, Irina V. Yakovleva, Tatiana S. Kosenko: Social Philosophy and Pedagogy: The Common and the Different	69
David Rybák: Communism of Solitude. A Contribution to the Problem of Mutual Constitution of Historicity and Intersubjectivity in Husserl’s Phenomenology	77

II. Sameness and Otherness in Specialpedagogic Reflection

Annette Leonhardt: Inclusive Schooling for the Hearing Impaired — Selected Results of a Research Programme	87
Vanda Hájková, Zbyněk Němec, Lea Květoňová and Iva Strnadová: Professional Dispositions and Values as a Part of Ethos of Teaching Assistant’s Job	97
Marja Volemanová and Lea Květoňová: Persisting Primary Reflexes — One of the Causes of Behavioral and Learning Disorders	109
Tereza Hradilová, Kateřina Hádková and Miroslava Kotvová: Changes in the Education of People with Hearing Impairment	117

*Eva Šotolová and Martin Jelínek: Probation Work with Youth Offenders as a Prevention of Re-offending and Social Exclusion.....*125