

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	viii
List of Boxes	viii
List of Acronyms	ix
Preface	xiii
1 Introduction	1
What are international organizations?	3
How can we study international organizations?	7
Part I Theory and History of International Organizations	11
2 Theories of International Organizations	13
The realist school	14
The institutionalist school	16
The constructivist school	21
Other theoretical approaches	26
Conclusion	27
3 History of International Organizations	30
War and power politics	31
International commerce	36
Global economic crises	40
Human rights violations	43
Developmental disparities	47
Environmental degradation	49
Conclusion	51
Part II Policy-Making in International Organizations	55
4 International Organizations as Political Systems	57
The constitutional structure of international organizations	58
The institutional structure of international organizations	60
Conclusion	70
5 Input: Actors' Demands and Support	73
Governments of member states	74
Administrative staff	79
Parliamentarians	82
Interest groups	83
Communities of experts	85
Conclusion	86

6 Conversion: Decision-making in International Organizations	88
Programme decisions	89
Operational decisions	101
Conclusion	106
7 Output: What International Organizations Produce	108
Policy programmes	109
Operational activities	112
Policy effectiveness	118
Conclusion	120
Part III Activities of International Organizations	121
8 Peace and Security	123
Banning force and keeping peace	123
Arms control and disarmament	137
Conclusion	144
9 Trade and Development	146
Global trade relations	147
European trade relations	155
Disparities in development	161
Conclusion	169
10 Finance and Monetary Relations	172
Global financial relations	172
European monetary relations	179
Conclusion	186
11 The Environment	188
Protection of the ozone layer	188
Climate change	195
Conclusion	203
12 Human Rights	205
Global human rights protection	206
European human rights protection	220
Conclusion	224
Part IV Conclusion	227
13 Between a World State and International Anarchy: Images of World Order	229
Models of world order	230
Conclusion	235
References	237
Index	269