

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	ix
Part I. A New Approach to German-Jewish History
1. The Three Regions of German-Jewish History	3
2. Pariahs, Strangers, and Court Jews	15
3. The Role and Significance of the Jewish Artisan Class	29
4. Village and Small-Town Jews in Germany	43
5. The Socioeconomic Causes of Antisemitism	69
Part II. Community and Family History
6. The Decline of the Munich Jewish Community, 1933–38	83
7. The Jews of Munich: 1918–43 Annotated and Translated from the German by Judith Marcus	97
8. In the Dachau Concentration Camp: An Autobiographical Essay	151
Part III. Profiles in Jewish Courage and Vision
9. Scholar and Visionary: The Correspondence between Theodor Herzl and Ludwig Gumplowicz	161
10. The Life of Clementine Kraemer	175
11. Martin Buber: A Reminiscence	201
Part IV. Reflections on the German-Jewish Symbiosis
12. Friedrich Wilhelm Schelling and the New Thinking of Judaism	209
Index	249