

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	viii
Notes on the Editors and Contributors	ix
Resistance Studies: A Critical Introduction	1
PART I FOUNDATIONS	29
1 Globalization, Resistance, and Social Transformation Jeffrey Juris and Marina Sitrin	31
2 Emerging Subjectivity in Protest Bob Kurik	51
3 Islamism, Feminism, and Resistance: Rethinking the Arab Spring Valentine M. Moghadam	78
4 The Grand Refusal?: Struggling with Alternative Foucauldian Inspired Approaches to Resistance at Work David Knights	98
5 Resisting the 24/7 Work Ethic – Shifting Modes of Regulation and Refusal in Organized Employment André Spicer and Peter Fleming	121
PART II SITES OF RESISTANCE	137
6 The Body as a Site of Resistance Erynn Masi de Casanova and Afshan Jafar	139
7 The Complexities and Contradictions of Resistance: An Intersectional Perspective Amanda M. Gengler	156
8 Individual Constraint and Group Solidarity: Marginalized Mothers and the Paradox of Family Responsibility Jillian Crocker	170
9 Protecting Our Children: Paradoxes of Resistance in an Era of Neoliberal Education Linda Blum and Shelley Kimelberg	185

10	Resistance in Organizational Strategy-Making Anniina Rantakari and Eero Vaara	208
11	Prisons as Sites of Power/Resistance Tammi Arford	224
PART III TECHNOLOGIES OF POWER AND RESISTANCE		245
12	Recasting Community for Online Resisting Work Felipe G. Massa	247
13	Between Grassroots and 'Astroturf': Understanding Mobilization from the Top-down Edward T. Walker	269
14	From Digital Tools to Political Infrastructure Marianne Maeckelbergh	280
15	Resisting the New: On Cooptation and the Organisational Conditions for Entrepreneurship Daniel Hjorth	298
PART IV LANGUAGES OF RESISTANCE		317
16	Musical Style, Youth Subcultures, and Cultural Resistance Ryan Moore	319
17	Graffiti as Infrapolitics: A Study of Visual Interventions of Resistance in San Francisco Guillaume Marche	336
18	Naming, Shaming, Changing the World Gay Seidman	351
19	Contesting Authority in a Moralized Market: The Case of a Catholic Hospital Unionization Campaign Adam Reich	367
20	Organizational Change and Resistance: An Identity Perspective Sierk Ybema, Robyn Thomas and Cynthia Hardy	386
PART V GEOGRAPHIES OF RESISTANCE		405
21	The World Social Forum and Global Resistance: The Trajectory of an Activist Open Space Giuseppe Caruso	407

22	Back to Work: Resisting Clientelism in a Poor Neighborhood of Buenos Aires Pablo Fernández	427
23	Bases of Governance and Forms of Resistance: The Case of Rural China Xueguang Zhou and Yun Ai	443
24	Resistance and its Pitfalls: Analyzing NGO and Civil Society Politics in Bangladesh Lamia Karim	461
25	Urban Gardening: Between Green Resistance and Ideological Instrument Sandrine Baudry and Emeline Eudes	476

	Index	495
--	--------------	-----

Steven Vallas is Professor of Sociology at Northeastern University in Boston, where he teaches contemporary social theory and the sociology of work. Most of his research has focused on the processes that generate or challenge organizational inequalities, whether along class (manager/direct/worker), gender, or racial lines. His articles and books have appeared in leading sociological journals, dealing with a number of topics, such as the contradictions that unfold with the commercialization of science, the dilemmas that often afflict efforts to empower workers within traditional manufacturing; how technological change disrupts authority relations at work; and the meaning of workplace 'flexibility' in the liberal market economies. His most recent book is Work: A Critique (Polity, 2012). He currently edits the Emerald periodical Research in the Sociology of Work.

THE CONTRIBUTORS

Yun Ai is a research associate in the National Institute of Social Development, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. Her research focuses on institutional changes and governance issues in China, government and grassroots organizations, and state-society relationships. One of Ai's current research projects examines the process of policy-making and implementation in local governments. She is also working on an ethnographic study of the reform of land ownership in rural China. This research is supported by a grant from the National Social Science Fund of China (13CSH084), and a fund from the program of Marxian Theoretical Studies and Construction, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (2014mgc4014).