

Contents

List of figures	viii
List of tables	ix
Preface	x
Acknowledgements	xiii
 PART I
Contextualising geographies of transport and mobility	1
1 Geographies of transport: geographies of mobility	3
2 The 'long mobile century': from streetcar suburbs to auto-mobility	13
3 Predict and provide: transport planning in an age of climate change	36
 PART II
Approaches to transport and mobility	45
4 Transport geography and geographies of mobility	47
5 Travel and transport in everyday life	69
6 Consuming places: leisure travel and the 'end of tourism'	83
 PART III
Sustainable mobilities	101
7 Sustainable mobility: the policy challenge	103
8 Sustainable mobility: the challenge of behavioural change	112
9 Sustainable mobility: planning better places to live and (not?) travel	126
10 Conclusion: what future for mobility?	147
 Bibliography	 156
Index	178