

Contents

Notes on contributors

ix

Preface

xiii

MIKE STEPHENS

- |   |   |     |
|---|---|-----|
| 1 | Crime prevention as law: rhetoric or reality?                            | 1   |
|   | KATE MOSS   |     |
| 2 | Law and the management of places   | 14  |
|   | MARTIN H. SEDDON  |     |
| 3 | Local authorities, crime reduction and the law                           | 34  |
|   | STEPHEN BROOKES   |     |
| 4 | No through road: closing pathways to crime                               | 50  |
|   | KEN PEASE   |     |
| 5 | Police performance targets, repeat victimizationand crime reduction | 67  |
|   | STEVE EVERSON   |     |
| 6 | The law and mental disorder: an uneasy relationship                      | 88  |
|   | HERSCHEL PRINS  |     |
| 7 | Paedophilia prevention and the law                                       | 113 |
|   | DENNIS HOWITT   |     |

8	Crime as pollution: proposal for market-based incentives to reduce crime externalities	135
	GRAHAM FARRELL AND JOHN ROMAN
9	Managing offenders and reducing crime: government responses to persistent offenders and the development of the National Offender Management Service	156
	STEVE GOODE AND STEPHEN BROOKES
10	The future of crime reduction	174
	KATE MOSS
	Index	197