TABLE OF CONTENTS

| PART ONE: THE PLACE OF CONTRACTION IN THE | | | | | | | | | |
|----------------------------------------------------------|---------|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| SYSTEM OF ISOGLOSSES | 3 | | | | | | | | |
| I. Characteristics of the system of dynamic isoglosses | 5 17 | | | | | | | | |
| II. The proto-language and its disintegration | | | | | | | | | |
| III. Contraction territory and its division: focus | | | | | | | | | |
| central area, periphery and transperiphery | 25 | | | | | | | | |
| PART TWO: STAGES OF CONTRACTION | 35 | | | | | | | | |
| IV. The pre-contraction phonological system and the | | | | | | | | | |
| motivations for contraction | 37 | | | | | | | | |
| V. Introduction to the phasic typology of contraction | 46 | | | | | | | | |
| VI. Primary contraction | 52 | | | | | | | | |
| VII. Phonological contraction | 54 | | | | | | | | |
| VIII. Morphonological contraction | 59 | | | | | | | | |
| IX. Morphological contraction | 70 | | | | | | | | |
| X. Morphologized contraction | 76 | | | | | | | | |
| XI. Jer contraction | 81 | | | | | | | | |
| PART THREE: CONTRACTION AS A NEW SYSTEMIC | 000 | | | | | | | | |
| FACTOR | 89 | | | | | | | | |
| XII. General and specific features of contraction | 91 | | | | | | | | |
| XIII. Significance of contraction for the development of | | | | | | | | | |
| the phonological system | 102 | | | | | | | | |
| XIV. Significance of contraction for the development | | | | | | | | | |
| of the morphological system | 109 | | | | | | | | |
| XV. Special reconstruction in declension | 121 | | | | | | | | |
| XVI. Special reconstruction in conjugation | 128 | | | | | | | | |
| PART FOUR: THE ROLE OF CONTRACTION IN FURTHER | 127 | | | | | | | | |
| DEVELOPMENT ion which | 137 | | | | | | | | |
| XVII. Contraction and the fall of the jers (jer shift): | 139 | | | | | | | | |
| the chronology and its significance | | | | | | | | | |
| XVIII. Local variants in the development | 148 | | | | | | | | |

| | Sample reconstruction of changes in conjugation from proto-Slavic through the historical period of | | | | | | | | | | |
|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----|--|---|--|---|--|-----|--|--|
| | the contraction | languag | es | | | | | | 158 | | |
| XX. | Conclusions | | | | | | | | 165 | | |
| Referen | ces | | | | | | | | 171 | | |
| Index o | f authors' name | s | | | | | | | 173 | | |
| Index of | of languages | | | | | | | | 175 | | |
| | of words | | | | 1 | | · | | 181 | | |