

Contents

Focus: Legal Perspectives in Victorian Literature

Anna Enrichetta Soccio

Legal Perspectives in Victorian Literature — 215

Anna Enrichetta Soccio

Charles Dickens and the Rhetoric of Law in David Copperfield — 219

Raffaella Antinucci

Gentlemanliness, Status and Law in Anthony Trollope’s Lady Anna — 231

Francesca D’Alfonso

Infanticide in Adam Bede: Hetty Sorrel and the Language of Justice — 251

Michela Marroni

The Abstruse Syntax of Law in Wilkie Collins’s The Law and the Lady — 265

Elisa Bizzotto

Late-Victorian Experiences with Italian Legislation: Stories of Sex, Madness and Social Commitment — 283

Tania Zulli

“Undesirable Immigrants”: The Language of Law and Literature in Joseph Conrad’s “Amy Foster” — 299

Research

Donata Gottardi

Robotics and Work: Between Fiction and Reality — 313

Matteo Nicolini

Praising the World “by Geometrical Terms”: Legal Metrics, Science and Indicators in Swift’s Voyage to Laputa — 327

Kyriaco Nikias

The Voice of the People in Homer — 349

Myriam Di Maio

Elizabeth the Rhetorician. An Analysis of the Greatest Speeches by the Virgin Queen — 379

Book Review

Daniela Carpi

Pier Giuseppe Monateri, Dominus Mundi. Political Sublime and the World Order — 395