

Contents

Foreword	3	Section 4: Teaching approaches	42
Section 1: Introduction	6	Richard Hatwood
Steve Rawlinson and Tessa Willy		Different teaching approaches	44
Navigating primary geography	8	Start local, go global	44
Geography in the primary school	9	New and topical content	44
The value of geography	10	Questioning	45
Geography's place	11	Enquiry	46
Supporting primary geography professionals	12	Planning for enquiry	47
Nurturing young geographers	14	Critical thinking	47
		Debate	48
Section 2: Key concepts	16	Teaching for a sustainable world	51
Simon Catling		Planning for sustainability	52
Geography's significance	18	Section 5: Geography in your curriculum	54
Understanding geographical knowledge	20	Richard Greenwood
Propositional geographical knowledge	21	Geography in the whole-school curriculum	56
Substantive geographical knowledge	21	The curriculum 'big picture'	56
Procedural geographical knowledge	22	Geography's place in the curriculum	56
Thinking geographically	22	Adapting to changes in national curricula	56
Connecting through environmental geography	25	Curriculum making	57
Section 3: Key skills	28	Fundamentals of planning	58
Stephen Pickering		Everyday geography	58
Geographical skills	30	Powerful knowledge	59
Making use of maps	30	Teachers' subject knowledge	60
Maps for a purpose	31	Personalising your geography teaching	61
Maps and stories	33	Local geography	61
Maps and technology	34	Topical geography	61
Making meaning with vocabulary	34	Enquiry geography	62
Making sense through graphicacy	35	Cross-curricularity	63
Making learning real through fieldwork and the outdoors	36	Pupil voice	63
Learning outdoors around the school	38
Learning outdoors further afield	40
Developing skills	40

■ Section 6: Integrating geography	66	Drawbacks of topic-based teaching	100
Introduction to teaching geography in a cross-curricular way	68	How can we plan for topics?	100
Leszek Iwaskow		Topics based on everyday geography	102
Subject knowledge	68	Topics about distant places	105
Powerful ideas	69	Topics based on physical, human and environmental geography	107
Keeping in touch with the curriculum	69
Geographical themes for a cross-curricular approach	72	■ Section 7: Effective subject leadership	112
Support for a cross-curricular approach	75	Paula Owens
		Leading geography in your classroom	114
Integrating geography with the core subjects	77	Informal conversations	114
Julia Tanner		Formal conversations	115
Integrating with English	77	Indirect channels	118
Speaking, listening, reading, writing and drama	77	Essential geography resources	119
Start with a story	78	Leading geography in your school	122
Non-fiction genres	79	Developing a vision	123
Drama and role play	79	Creating a school geography policy	125
Integrating with mathematics	80	Planning a curriculum	126
Mathematics and geographical enquiries	83	Managing change	128
Integrating with science	83	Creating an action plan	135
		Celebrating geography	135
Integrating with the foundation subjects		Assessment and progression	135
Ben Ballin	88	Transition	147
Finding meaningful overlaps	88	Professional development	149
Integrating with the humanities	88	The Primary Geography Quality Mark	150
Religious education	88	Evidence-informed teaching	151
PSHE	89	Action research	151
Citizenship	89	Subject association support	152
History	91	CPD	153
Integrating with the arts	94	Quality assurance	155
Art and design	94	Subject leader impact and inspection	156
Music	96
Drama	96	Index	158
		Online support	164
Integrating geography through topics		Your Geographical Association	165
Susan Pike	98	Contributors	166
Why teach geography through topics?	98
Benefits to pupils of topic-based learning	98
Advantages to teachers of topic-based teaching	99		