

Contents

	Thanks	viii
	Acknowledgements	ix
	Introduction	I
I	Defining and identifying chunks	13
	1.1 Identifying chunks	16
	1.2 Collocation cards with Word Neighbors	18
	1.3 Expanding word knowledge	21
	1.4 Making mini-stories with collocation forks	24
	1.5 Revisiting delexicalized verbs with COCA	26
	1.6 Using multiple sources to find chunks	29
	1.7 Using Contrastive Analysis	31
	1.8 Chunks everywhere	33
2	Revising and recycling chunks	35
	2.1 Walkabout cloze	36
	2.2 Word – Collocation – Example	37
	2.3 Memory quiz	39
	2.4 Prompted recall	41
	2.5 Chunk match	44
	2.6 Chunks on chairs	46
	2.7 Chunk swap	47
	2.8 Get the chunk off my back	48
	2.9 Chunks around the room	50
3	Exploring text	53
	3.1 Predicting grammar	54
	3.2 Guided discovery of chunks	55
	3.3 Were you paying attention?	57
	3.4 Text reconstruction	59
	3.5 What do they stand for?	60
	3.6 ‘You’re wrong, teacher!’	62
	3.7 Input enhancement	64
	3.8 Gaming language	65

4	Chunks and listening	67
4.1	Are you primed for this?	68
4.2	Reviewing chunks: repeated gapfills	71
4.3	Live listening	73
4.4	Live listening extra	75
4.5	Intonation contours	77
4.6	Tease 'em apart	79
4.7	Rhythmic chunks	80
4.8	Very narrow listening	82
5	From words to grammar	85
5.1	Tricky word families	86
5.2	Connecting words and grammar	88
5.3	Collocation Concentration	90
5.4	From word lists to patterns	93
5.5	Look left, look right	96
5.6	Four circle introductions	98
5.7	Verbs that go both ways	100
5.8	Get the last word in	103
5.9	Confusable pairs	106
5.10	Focused grammar tasks	109
6	From grammar to words	111
6.1	Going over answers: eliciting context	112
6.2	Going over answers: exploring alternatives	114
6.3	Putting irregular verbs to work	115
6.4	Life story	117
6.5	Sentences on strips of paper	119
6.6	Disappearing chunks	121
6.7	Slices of meaning	122
6.8	Frames and fillers	125
6.9	Lexical snakes	127
6.10	From spoken to written	128
7	Problematic structures	129
7.1	Does it?	130
7.2	It doesn't matter	131
7.3	How long?	133
7.4	Best ever	134
7.5	Relay race	136
7.6	Left hand, right hand	138
7.7	I thought you said ...	140
7.8	Charades with prepositions	141
7.9	Prepositions of time and place	143
7.10	Teacher-led input flooding	145

8	Chunks in writing	147
8.1	Key noun spidergrams	148
8.2	Cause and effect	151
8.3	Forced choice writing	153
8.4	Odd one out	154
8.5	... which was nice	156
8.6	Writing frame	158
8.7	Writing skeleton	160
8.8	Learners' own corpus	162
8.9	Very predictable chunks	164
8.10	Upgrading a text using Google	166
8.11	Live writing	169
9	Adapting old classics	171
9.1	Chunks as a way into a song activity	172
9.2	Find someone who	174
9.3	Signatures	176
9.4	Spiced-up role play	178
9.5	Matching words and definitions	180
9.6	Picture this	182
9.7	Two sentence contextualization	185
9.8	Classroom language posters	186
9.9	Thinking synonymously	188
9.10	From word box to chunk box	190
9.11	Turn word clouds into chunk clouds	192
10	Loving language	195
10.1	Spoonerisms	196
10.2	That doesn't sound quite right	197
10.3	Schlub dub	199
10.4	Binomials	201
10.5	Alliterative chunks	203
10.6	Seemingly easy verbs	206
10.7	Guess the word	208
10.8	Lost in translation	210
10.9	Discourse markers game	212
10.10	Memes and memorable movie quotes	215
10.11	Learner-created phrasebooks	217
10.12	Chunk chants	219
10.13	The devil's in the detail	221
	Glossary	223
	Useful resources	227
	References	229
	Index	231