

Contents

List of figures	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
Introduction	1
YANIV FOX AND YOSI YISRAELI
1 Conversion as a historiographical problem: The case of Zoraya/Isabel de Solís	24
RYAN SZPIECH
PART I
Regulating conversion	39
2 Conversion on trial: Toleration of apostasy and the trial of three converts to Judaism in the Dutch Republic, 1614–1615	41
ALEXANDER VAN DER HAVEN
3 Anxieties in conflict: The Ratto of Anna del Monte	61
KENNETH STOW
4 Normative texts as sources for conversion to Christianity in Europe	77
ROY FLECHNER
5 Royal policy and conversion of Jews to Christianity in thirteenth-century Europe	96
JOHN TOLAN

PART II

Social realities of inter-religious conversion 113

- 6 The donor and the gravedigger: Converts to Judaism in the Cairo Geniza documents 115

MOSHE YAGUR

- 7 Conversion as an aspect of master–slave relationships in the medieval Egyptian Jewish community 135

CRAIG PERRY

- 8 Returning apostates and their marital partners in medieval Ashkenaz 160

EPHRAIM KANARFOGEL

- 9 Conversion and return to Judaism in high and late medieval Europe: Christian perceptions and portrayals 177

PAOLA TARTAKOFF

PART III

Narrating conversion 195

- 10 Conversion from the worst to the best: The relationship between medieval Judaism, Islam, and Christianity 197

IRVEN RESNICK

- 11 The role of preaching in the conversion to Islam 210

LINDA G. JONES

- 12 Between tyranny and the commonwealth: Political discourses and the framing of violence against conversos in the Gesta Hispaniensi of Alfonso de Palencia 229

YANAY ISRAELI

- 13 Converting bodies, embodying conversion: The production of religious identities in late medieval and early modern Europe 245

HENRIETTE-RIKA BENVENISTE AND GIORGOS PLAKOTOS

Contributors 268

Index 272