

TABLE OF CONTENT

Introduction	11
Plures lingwas in Praga nescimus : Conrad Waldhauser on Czech and German in Fourteenth-Century Prague David C. Mengel	19
Translating Political Theology into Vernacular: Réécriture Of John Wyclif's Oeuvre in Late Medieval Bohemia Martin Dekarli	53
The Puncta of Jan Hus: The Latin Transmission of Vernacular Preaching Pavel Soukup	91
Religious Cross-Currents at the End of the Middle Ages: Remarks on the Textual Transmission of Nicholas of Dresden's Tabule veteris et novi coloris Petra Mutlová	127
Translation and Transformation of Jan Hus's Czech Sunday Postil Jan Odstrčilík	153
The Vernacular Eulogy of John Wyclif by Master Andrzej of Dobczyn: Textual Transmission of Dissident Ideas in Fifteenth-Century Poland Paweł Kras	185
Vernacular Vitaspatrium in the Religious Polemic between Catholics and Utraquists in Bohemia, around the Year 1500 Jakub Sichálek	205
The Nikolsburg Anabaptists and their German-Language Apologias Jiří Černý	233
Bibliography	265
Index of Authors and Anonymous Texts	319