

leaf. At the beginning of line 21, Phiiw is already turning her gaze back to her activity of preparing bamboo strips for basketry work.	29
Video still coinciding with line 1 in example (3). Girl, A, leans over to take knife out of older brother's, B, hand.	72
Video still of example (7) (Fig. 3.2a), the requestor, A, reaches down to take the knife out of B's hand. In line 2 (Fig. 3.2b), B allows A to take the knife.	73
A man holding a large plastic basket (bottom right in Fig. 3.3a) reaches a half-closed gate, which another man (Fig. 3.3b) so that he can walk through (Fig. 3.3c).
List of Figures and Table	page vi
Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xvi
List of Abbreviations	xvii
Transcription Conventions	xix
Part I Preliminaries to Action	1
1 Basics of Action	3
2 The Study of Action	32
Part II The Nature of Action	63
3 The Distribution of Action	65
4 The Ontology of Action	89
Part III Action and Human Diversity	125
5 Collateral Effects	127
6 Natural Meaning	168
Postface	195
References	202
Index	218