

Contents

VILLA DELLA TORRE IN FUMANE DI VALPOLICELLA

LOREDANA OLIVATO

Villa Della Torre: new studies in the footsteps of a long tradition	7
--	----------

ADRIANO PROSPERI

The heterodoxy of villa Della Torre	11
--	-----------

THE STORY OF A VILLA

ANDREA BRUGNOLI

The context: the val di Sala, the castrum and the curtis of Fumane	15
The Valpolicella before the Valpolicella	15
The val di Sala	15
Inset – Fumane: the hill, the castle and the name of a territory [A.B.]	18
The castles: Monteculum and Fumane	19
The seats of power	20

PIERPAOLO BRUGNOLI

The fourteenth-century palazzo of the San Zilio branch of the Maffei family	21
From the castle to the palazzo	21
Antonio Maffei and the estate in Fumane	21
Biagio Maffei and the domus of Fumane in the fifteenth century	22
Santa Maria della Corte and the founding of the parish	26

MARIA TERESA FRANCO

The aura of Giulio Romano: the new villa	27
Humanism, Evangelism and a villa in Fumane	27
An ancient model	27
Inset – Giulio Della Torre [M.T.F.]	28
The patrons	28
Inset – Francesco Della Torre [M.T.F.]	32
A heretic in villa Della Torre	32
Problems of attribution and dating	34
A new hypothesis regarding authorship of the fireplaces in villa Della Torre	38
Giulio Romano and collaborators at villa Della Torre	42
A building beyond rule and order: Sebastiano Serlio for villa Della Torre	44

A rustic construction full of infinite licence, oddities and a rough-hewn disguise: once again, Giulio Romano	48
Inset – The Fumane in the sixteenth century: from public property to the property of the villa [G.Z.]	48
Inset – The bucintoro [G.Z.]	50
The courtyards, gardens and fish pond: the classical model and the rustic style	50
Inset – The grotto [G.Z.]	52
The grotto: archeological nuances, scholarly references and the rough-hewn disguise	52
Conclusion	54

MARIA TERESA FRANCO

The ‘monster’ fireplaces and Giovan Battista ‘excellent sculptor of crucifixes’	55
Extraordinary inventions : the sensational imagination of Giulio Romano and the re-evocation of Michelangelo	55
In favour of an unusual attribution	56
The artistic career, in Mantua and Verona, of Giovan Battista ‘most excellent sculptor of crucifixes’	58
At the court of the Gonzaga	58
In the service of a devout bishop: two crucifixes and the lost ‘Tabernacle of the Angels’	62
Conclusion: the trial and condemnation for heresy	64

PIERPAOLO BRUGNOLI

Cristoforo Sorte in the valley of Fumane	65
Cristoforo Sorte and the cultural environment of the Veneto	65
Cristoforo Sorte in Valpolicella	66
Inset – Cristoforo Sorte's sketches for the della Torre [P.B.]	67
Cristoforo Sorte, the Della Torre and proposals for the regulation of the progno of Fumane	68

GIULIO ZAVATTA

Watercourses, fountains and gardens	71
Water management during the Serenissima Republic: agriculture, mills and gardens	71
Water resources for villa Della Torre (1557-1562)	71
Veronica Franco and the system of fountains in villa Della Torre	72
Inset – The Lena and the Mazzurega springs [G.Z.]	74
Disputes with the local community between the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries	74
Inset – The Vaiustro and Valalta springs [G.Z.]	76
The eighteenth-century innovations: water for the stately gardens

and the orchards	76
New disputes over the use of water	78
The watercourses, fountains and gardens from the late eighteenth century to the present day	78

GIOVANNI CASTIGLIONI & FILIPPO LEGNAGHI

The chapel by Michele Sanmicheli	79
The attribution to Michele Sanmicheli	79
The layout of the floor plan and the octagonal cella	79
Inset – Michele Sanmicheli and Verona [p.B.]	80
The façade	80
The pronaos	84
The cupola	84

ALESSANDRA ZAMPERINI

The wall paintings and the surviving furnishings from the Maffei to the Della Torre	87
Background events	87
The décor of the Maffei residence	87
The altarpiece of the Maffei	90
The décor in the renovated villa of the Della Torre	92
Between the seventeenth and the eighteenth century	92

GIULIO ZAVATTA

Decay, destruction and rebirth	95
The villa in the sixteenth century	95
The seventeenth century: the first disputes, and the inventories of the Fumane and city residences	96
Donna Felicita and a seventeenth-century lawsuit over the furniture of the villa in Fumane	96
The eighteenth century: the final splendour and the beginning of the decline	100
The last two centuries: decline, changes in ownership and restoration work	100

INTERPRETATIONS OF A VILLA

GIUSEPPE CONFORTI

The symbolism of the villa between the sacred and the mundane	105
A 'Roman-style' villa, the Della Torre, antiquity and religious devotion	105
The architectural interplay of rule and transgression	105
The symbolic journey from the diabolical cave to the Christian temple	106
The Della Torre and Giulio Romano: architecture and Evangelism	108
The architecture of the chapel in two stages: Giulio Romano and Sanmicheli	110
The worldly symbolism in the second half of the sixteenth century and Marcantonio della Torre	110

CHRISTOPHER J. PASTORE

Veronica Franco, Giulio Della Torre and the ideology of the Venetian villa	111
Villeggiatura, the Valpolicella and Veronica Franco	111
Villa Della Torre	112
The gardens of villa Della Torre	116

Veronica Franco and villa Della Torre	116
'Third Nature'	117
Veronica Franco and the nature of the garden	118
Giulio Della Torre and the 'all'antica' villa	119
Rustication and villa architecture	122
Running water	123
Conclusion	124

THE CULTURE OF FOOD AND WINE AROUND A VILLA

PIERPAOLO BRUGNOLI

Veronese Renaissance gastronomy in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries	127
Geographical distinctions and social differences at the dining table	127
Gourmet gifts and banquets	128
Some menus	130
Meat and dairy products	132
Inset – Dessert wines in Roman times and the identity of Italian wine [A.B.]	134
Fishing and fish	134
Fishing for carp	134
Inset – Villa Della Torre's oil mill in the sixteenth century [A.B.]	136
Fruit and vegetables	137
Inset – The cellars, wine and vinegar in villa Della Torre [A.B.]	138
Wines	138
Sweets and spices	140

ANDREA BRUGNOLI & EMANUELE LUCIANI

Vines and olive trees in the Valpolicella from Roman times to the present day	141
The diversity of the agricultural landscape	141
The cultivation of olives	141
Viticulture between the Medieval period and the early modern period	142
After the Annexation: initial hypotheses for the specialized cultivation of vines in the Valpolicella	144
Inset – The Valpolicella, Valpolicella [A.B.]	146
Committees, Societies and Oenological Associations involved in the modernization of viticulture	148
Inset – The 'eager spirits' [E.L.]	148
Inset – Recioto at the beginning: 'an aberration' yet successful' [E.L.]	150
From the phylloxera crisis to recovery	150
Inset – The founding of the Consorzio for the protection of the typical wines of the Valpolicella (1925) [E.L.]	151
The late 1940s and the 1950s	151
The 1960s	151
From the 1970s to the end of the century	152

NOTES & BIBLIOGRAPHY

Essay notes	155
Inset notes	167
Bibliography	169