

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
Notes on contributors	xi
1 Introduction: the Eurocrisis and national political elites	1
NICOLÒ CONTI, BORBÁLA GÖNCZ AND JOSÉ REAL-DATO
2 A challenged project – the ‘Europe of elites’ in crisis	17
HEINRICH BEST AND LARS VOGEL
3 The influence of the crisis on the perceptions of European Union institutions by national political elites	35
JOSÉ REAL-DATO, MAURIZIO COTTA AND JUAN RODRÍGUEZ-TERUEL
4 Levels of policy decisions: do elite preferences differ before and after the crisis?	66
GYÖRGY LENGYEL, BÁLINT LENGYEL AND NICOLÒ CONTI
5 European integration in the view of political elites and citizens – an increasing gap?	88
LARS VOGEL AND BORBÁLA GÖNCZ
6 Individuals vs. parties: comparing MPs’ positions to the positions of their own parties	115
MARKO KUKEC, BOJANA KOCIJAN AND LUCA VERZICHELLI
7 Resilience of pro-European consensus among political elites in crisis: ‘old’ and ‘new’ EU member states compared	136
MATEJ MAKAROVIČ AND MATEVŽ TOMŠIČ

8 The future of the EU: between integration and disintegration	161
FRANCESCO MARANGONI AND FEDERICO RUSSO
9 Conclusions: still a Europe of elites	178
JOSÉ REAL-DATO, BORBÁLA GÖNCZ AND NICOLÒ CONTI
Appendix A: ENEC questionnaire (including alternative questions for other social elites)	195
Appendix B: additional information about the ENEC survey	218
Appendix C: research teams and funding of the ENEC project	221
Index	223