

Table of Contents

About the Authors.....	viii
About the Contributors	xi
Foreword.....	xxxix
Introduction.....	xxxiii
Part I: The Transformation of Nursing Education Through Reflective Practice.....	1
Chapter 1: Turning Vision Into Action: Reflection to Develop Professional Practice (Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF)	3
A New Vision for Education	4
Reflection to Engage Learners in Learning Experiences.....	9
Reflection to Engage Learners in Practice Development	13
Reflection: The Key to Transformative Learning.....	18
Final Reflections.....	23
References	23
Chapter 2: Reflection and Mindful Practice: A Means to Quality and Safety (Gail Armstrong, PhD, DNP, RN, ACNS-BC, CNE; and Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF).....	29
Reflective Practice and Emotional Intelligence	31
Quality and Safety: Moving from the Political to the Personal.....	33
Models of Reflective Practice That Influence Practice.....	33
Creative Tension Related to Quality and Safety	34
The Time and Space to Reflect.....	35
An Exemplar for Teaching Quality and Safety Using Reflective Practice	36
Learning Through Reflection: Common Themes in Reflection Papers	39

Learner Responses to Reflection Papers	44
Final Reflections.....	46
References	46
Chapter 3: Reflection and Mindful Practice: Developing Emotional Intelligence Through Coaching (Michael Moran, DHA, ACC, LFACHE; and Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF).....	51
A Coaching Model to Develop Emotional Intelligence.....	52
Emotional Intelligence.....	53
Self-Assessment for Emotional Intelligence Skills	55
Coaching Conversation	55
Reflective Practice	56
Connecting the Dots: Linking Actions With Results	57
Conducting an Emotional Intelligence Coaching Conversation Using the CAAACS Model	58
Step 1: Connection	60
Step 2: Assessment	60
Step 3: Articulation	63
Step 4: Action	63
Step 5: Commitment	65
Step 6: Support	67
Developing EI Skills for the Coach/Educator	68
Final Reflections.....	68
References	69
Part II: Reflection and Mindful Practice	71
Chapter 4: Creating Space for Reflection: The Importance of Presence in the Teaching-Learning Process (Kristen Lombard, PhD, RN, PMHCNS-BC; and Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF)	73
Introduction.....	73

Reflecting on Space.....	74
Clinical Reflection	75
What Emerges in Space: Potential	76
Engaging With Space—or Not	76
What Emerges in Space: Vulnerability	78
Clinical Reflection and Activity.....	79
What Emerges in Space: Fear	81
Mindfulness-Awareness	83
Space and Intentionality: The Choice to Reflect	85
Space and Authentic Presence	86
Protected Space: Nurturing Communities of Learning.....	88
Final Reflections.....	90
References	90

Chapter 5: The Mindful Educator: Preparing Ourselves to Interact with Learners (Rhonda Schwindt, DNP, RN, PMHNP/CNS-BC; Pamela O'Haver Day, APRN, PMHCNS-BC; and Angela McNelis, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF, CNE).....
	95
Introduction.....	95
The Essence of Mindfulness	97
Being a Mindful Educator	98
The Practice of Mindful Teaching	102
Mindful Teaching Leads to Empathy and Compassion	102
Mindful Teaching Leads to Self-Awareness	104
Exemplar of Mindful Teaching	105
Final Reflections.....	107
References	108

Chapter 6: Mindful Learners (Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; Barbara L. Drew, PhD, RN, PMHCNS; and Kathleen Beck-Coon, MD).....	111
Background	112
The Need for Introducing Mindful Practices Into Learning.....	113
Supporting the Development of Self-Awareness and Self-Care	115
Nurturing Relationships.....	118
Compassionate Reflection	118
Compassionate Communication	119
Self-Care Curriculum Infusion	120
Creating Space for Reflection in the Classroom.....	122
Using the Kosha Model (Contributed by Andy Davies, PhD, MEd)	123
The Kosha Layer Reflection	128
Final Reflections.....	128
References	129
Part III: Supporting Reflective Learning: In Didactic and Clinical Practice Contexts.....	135
Chapter 7: Learning Through Reflection and Reflection on Learning: Pedagogies in Action (Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Chantal Cara, PhD, RN)	137
Learning Through Reflection: Theoretical Philosophy Perspectives ...	139
Learning Through Reflection: Theoretical Nursing Perspectives	144
Reflective Learning Assessments: Exemplars of Reflective Pedagogies in Action	147
Examples of Reflection	157
Final Reflections.....	161
References	162

Chapter 8: Narrative Pedagogy: Co-Creating Engaging Learning Experiences With Students (Pamela Ironside, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Marie Hayden-Miles, PhD, RN, CNE).....	167
Narrative Pedagogy	168
The Concernful Practices of Schooling Learning Teaching.....	170
Getting Started With Narrative Pedagogy	172
Using Narrative Pedagogy.....	174
Attending to Students' Learning.....	176
Final Reflections.....	177
References.....	178
Chapter 9: Reflective Practice in Simulation-Based Learning (Kathryn R. Alden, EdD, MSN, RN, IBCLC; and Carol F. Durham, EdD, MSN, RN, ANEF, FAAN)	181
Simulation as an Instructional Strategy in Nursing Education and Practice	183
Simulation and Reflection: Making Sense of the Experience	188
Phases of Simulated Clinical Experiences	190
Stages of Reflective Practice	191
Factors Influencing Reflective Practice and Simulated Clinical Experiences.....	192
Pre-Simulation: Reflection-Before-Action.....	193
Intra-Simulation: Reflection-in-Action.....	197
Debriefing: Reflection-on-Action	197
Post-Simulation: Reflection-Beyond-Action.....	200
Reflective Practice and Simulated Clinical Learning: Exemplar	201
Pre-Simulation (Reflection-Before-Action).....	202
Intra-Simulation (Reflection-in-Action).....	207

Debriefing (Reflection-on-Action)	207
Post-Simulation (Reflection-Beyond-Action)	208
Final Reflections	208
References	209
Chapter 10: Reflection in Clinical Contexts: Learning, Collaboration, and Evaluation (Gail Armstrong, PhD, DNP, RN, ACNS-BC, CNE; Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF)	215
Reflection, Learning, and Assessment: Building Partnerships Between Educators and Learners	216
Collaboratively Structuring Reflection in Clinical Learning	218
Partnerships to Create a Reflective Learning Environment	219
Quality and Safety as a Clinical Domain for Reflection	222
Other Tools to Enhance Clinical Reflection	225
Creating Space for Reflection in Clinical Settings: Debriefing for Meaningful Learning	227
Allowing Reflection to Inform Evaluation	230
Assessing Reflective Work	232
A Reflective Approach to Student Evaluations of Courses	234
Final Reflections	235
References	235
Part IV: Deepening the Foundations of Professional Practice Through Reflection	239
Chapter 11: Attention to Self as Nurse: Caring for Patients, Caring for Self, Making Sense of Practice (Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Cheryl Woods Giscombe, PhD, RN, PNMNP-BC)	241

Making Sense of Practice	244
Developing Competence and Confidence to Think Like a Nurse	244
Developing Clinical Judgment to Move Toward Expert Practice	246
Knowing and Navigating the Context of Practice	248
Attending to Self as Nurse	250
Engaging in Self-Care	250
Developing Self-Awareness and Mindful Practice	251
Cultivating the Practice of Loving-Kindness Toward Self and Others	253
Developing Transformational Leadership: Relating to Others	254
Bringing It Together: Professional Development Strategies	256
Reflective Narratives	256
Guiding and Coaching: Developing Inquiry	263
Final Reflections	265
References	266
Chapter 12: Reflective Practices: Changing the Culture of Peer Evaluation (Sharon L. Sims, PhD, RN, FAANP; and Melinda M. Swenson, PhD, RN, FNP, FAANP)	271
Issues With Current Approaches to Peer Evaluation	272
The Shulman Table of Learning	276
Adding Appreciative Approaches	281
Enacting SE~PE	282
Exemplar #1: Online Course: Design Conference Determines Process	283
Exemplar #2: Graduate Clinical Course: Design Conference and Observation of Online Teaching	284

Exemplar #3: Undergraduate Capstone Course Illustrates an Ideas Conference	285
The Ideas Conference and Reports	286
SE~PE Application to Clinical Nursing Practice	286
Final Reflections	287
References	288
Chapter 13: Reflective Ways of Working Together: Using Liberating Structures (Melinda M. Swenson, PhD, RN, FNP, FAANP; Sharon L. Sims, PhD, RN, FAANP; and Keith McCandless, MMHS)	291
Beyond Tradition: Complexity Science Advances Organizational Relationships	292
Using Liberating Structures to Change the Way We Interact and Reflect	294
Liberating Structures: Reflecting-in-Action and Reflecting-on-Action	297
Using Liberating Structures in a School of Nursing	298
Story: Using a Conversation Café to Move From Small Talk to BIG Talk	298
Story: 1-2-4-All: A Way to Get Started	300
Story: TRIZ: Turning It Upside Down	302
Story: Clearness Committees to Enable Discernment	303
Final Reflections	310
References	310
Part V: Future Directions in Reflective Practice	313
Chapter 14: An Introduction to Integral Philosophy and Theory: Implications for Quality and Safety (Daniel J. Pesut, PhD, RN, FAAN)	315

Learning at the Integral Edge: What Is Integral?	316
Experience Through an Integral Lens: Four Dimensions of Awareness	318
An Integral Circle of Awareness	324
Evolving Quality and Safety Science Through an Integral Lens	325
Final Reflections	327
References	328
Chapter 15: Reflecting as a Team: Issues to Consider in Interprofessional Practice (Daniel J. Pesut, PhD, RN, FAAN; Gwen D. Sherwood, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF; and Sara Horton-Deutsch, PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF)	331
Transformational Learning	332
An Integral Approach to Transformation of Interprofessional Practice	332
Quality, Safety, and Integral Methodological Pluralism: Eight Zones of Inquiry	336
Enacting Integral Education	340
The Nature and Definition of Interprofessionality	341
The Demand of Interprofessionality	343
The Nature of Group Life: Implications for Interprofessionality	343
Interprofessional Practice, Team Reflection, and the Development of a Self-Authoring Mind	349
Final Reflections	351
References	352
Chapter 16: Emancipatory Nursing Praxis: Becoming a Social Justice Ally (Robin R. Walter, PhD, RN, CNE)	355
Social Justice in Nursing	356
Emancipatory Nursing Praxis: Overview of the Theory	357
Becoming	358

Awakening	359
Engaging	363
Transforming	366
Reflexive Contextual Conditions	366
Using a Pedagogy of Intersectional Privilege to Develop Nurses as Social Justice Allies	370
The Interplay of Experiential Learning and Critical Reflective Dialogue	372
Nurses as Social Justice Allies: The Caring Mandate for a Global Society	373
Final Reflections	375
References	376
Part VI: Appendices	379
Appendix A: For Further Reflection: Useful Websites	381
Part I: The Transformation of Nursing Education Through Reflective Practice	381
Part II: Reflection and Mindful Practice	382
Part III: Supporting Reflective Learning: In Didactic and Clinical Practice Contexts	383
Part IV: Deepening the Foundation of Professional Practice Through Reflection	383
Part V: Future Directions in Reflective Practice	384
Appendix B: QSEN Prelicensure Competencies	385
Appendix C: Graduate/Advanced Practice Nursing Competencies	395
Index	407