

Contents

Preface	xii
1 Introduction	1
Positive versus Normative	3
Normative Analysis and the Public Sector	5
Government as an Economic Institution	6
The Constitutional Foundation of Government	7
Protection for Tribute: The Fundamental Contract	8
Other Activities of Government	9
Conclusion	10
2 The Economic Theory of Rights	11
Positive and Normative Theories of Rights	12
The Benefits of Rights	13
The Origins of Rights	14
The Historical Origins of Rights	16
Rights without Government: The Case of Peru	18
A Semantic Issue Regarding the Definition of Rights	20
Positive Alternatives to the Economic Theory of Rights	21
The Utility of Altruism	23
The Economic Theory and Other Theories	26
Contractarianism and a Normative Theory of Economic Rights	27
Conclusion	29
3 Governments and Constitutions	32
The Exchange Model of Government	32
Agreement and Exchange in Anarchy	34
The Exchange of Protection for Tribute	35
How Well Does the Two-Person Model Extrapolate to Many People?	37
Government as Monopolist	37
Competition among Potential Governments	38
Constitutional Rules and Legitimacy	40
The Social Contract	41
Other Theories of the Social Contract	43

Normative versus Positive Aspects of the Social Contract	48
The Characteristics of Constitutions	50
Constitutions and Monopoly Government	51
Conclusion	52
4 A Model of Rights and Government	54
Opportunistic Behavior and Rights	54
Monitoring and Enforcement	55
Institutions Do Not Make Rights Unconditional	57
Institutions and Enforcement	59
Government and Rights	60
Military and Police Protection of Rights	61
A Model of Rights Structures	62
Comparative Statics	65
Competition and Exchange	69
Conclusion	70
5 Distinction between Clubs and Governments	72
An Economic Theory of Clubs	73
Clubs and Governments	74
What is a Government?	80
A Definition of Government	83
The Reason for Defining Government	86
Coercion	87
Constitutions and Mobility	89
Conclusion	89
6 Government as Monopolist	92
Competition, Monopoly, and Coercion	93
Natural Monopoly in Government	94
The Government Cartel	95
The Competitive Model of Politics	96
Competition and Special Interests	97
Barriers to Entry and Monopoly	98
Seniority as a Barrier to Entry	99
Political Competition	101
Government and the Profits from Government	102
Federalism and Cartels among Governments	103
Regulation	105
Corruption	106

	The Secret Ballot	107
	Conclusion	108
7	Institutions and Exchange	110
	Dictatorship and Democracy	111
	Agreement in Politics and in the Marketplace	113
	Lindahl Equilibrium and Agreement	113
	Why is Compromise Necessary in Politics?	116
	Cycles and Stability	119
	Large and Small Number Settings	121
	Stability in General Elections and in the Legislature	121
	The American Constitution	124
	Conclusion	125
8	Constitutional Evolution	128
	Constitutions as a Constraint on Monopoly Power	129
	The Scope of Constitutional Rules	131
	Constitutional Evolution	132
	Constitutional Evolution and the Division of Labor	134
	Enforcement, Evolution, and Revolution	137
	Legitimacy and Enforcement	138
	Factors that Reduce Legitimacy	139
	Conclusion	140
9	Competition in Politics	142
	Government Exploitation	142
	Intergovernmental Competition	143
	Political Competition through Voting	145
	Constitutions as Substitutes for Mobility	146
	Constitutional Rules and Competition	146
	War: The Health of the State	147
	Government Growth and Decline	148
	The Importance of Constitutional Constraints	150
	Constitutional Design	151
	Social Science and Social Engineering	152
	Conclusion	153
10	The Concept of Agreement	155
	Agreement and the Operation of Government	156
	Legitimacy	157

Legitimacy and Agreement	159
The Production of Legitimacy	160
Agreement and Coercion	161
Ideology	162
Positive and Normative Agreement	163
Problems with the Concept of Agreement	165
Implied Agreement	168
Implied Agreement in Law	169
Fictions	170
Conceptual and Implied Agreement	171
A Positive Application of Implied Agreement	174
Normative Application	175
Conceptual Agreement	178
Conclusion	178
11 Positive and Normative Theories of Government	180
Why Normative Theories Require Positive Theories	180
Contractarianism	182
Utilitarianism	183
Act versus Rule Utilitarianism	185
Distinctions Between Utilitarians and Contractarians	186
Disagreements about Facts and Values	188
Natural Rights	189
Natural Law	191
The Role of Fictions	192
Conclusion	194
12 Political Ethics and Public Policy	196
Rawlsian Agreement as a Heuristic Device	196
Wicksellian Agreement	198
Agreement as a Benchmark	199
Non-Pareto Superior Policy Proposals	200
Problems with Non-Pareto Superior Policy Proposals	202
The Wicksellian Model of Taxation	203
Desirability and Feasibility	204
Legitimacy and Agreement	205
The Importance of the Status Quo	206
Conclusion	207
13 Conclusion	210
The Exchange Model of Government	210

Clubs and Governments	211
Constitutional Rules	212
Constitutions and Competition	213
Competition and Monopoly in Government	215
Government by Agreement	215
Agreement and Public Policy	216
Desirable Political Institutions	217
Dimensions of Political Competition	220
Institutions and Outcomes	221
Building on the Foundations	223
Notes	224
Bibliography	259
Index	269