

CONTENTS

Abbreviations	viii
Notes by the Editor	ix
Instead of an Introduction	xii
Preliminary Notes by Cemil Bayik, Military Commander of the PKK	xii

PART 1 THE KURDS IN THE WIDER MIDDLE EASTERN CONTEXT: WHO WE ARE AND WHAT WE WANT

Introduction	3
1 Some Basic Terms	8
Society	8
Tribe, Clanship and Ethnicity	8
Nation and Nation-State	9
Military and Political Solutions	11
Democracy and law	11
Citizenship and Ethnicity	12
Official, Traditional and Civil Society	13
Patriotism and Internationalism	13
2 Shortcomings of the Predominant Approaches to the Kurdish Issue	16
3 The Historical Framework	21
Prehistory and the early Bronze Age	21
The Age of Slavery	23
The Kurds in the Feudal Age	28
The Kurds in the Age of Capitalism	38
	4
Ethnic, National and Democratic Movements of the Kurds	45
The Period of Primitive feudal Nationalism	47
Bourgeois Nationalism	48
The People's Will for Freedom	49
The PKK	50

5 Towards a Solution to the Kurdish Conflict	70
The Kurdish Issue and its Democratic Solution in Turkey	72
The Era of Feudal Principalities and the Sultanate	72
The Era of Nationalism, Rebellion and Repression	73
Restructuring the Republic	77
The Nationalist Question in Iran and the Democratic Islamic Solution	82
Iraq	86
Syria	89
A Solution to the Kurdish Question can help the entire Middle East	90

PART 2 FIGHTING FOR A PEOPLE UNDER INTERNATIONAL SIEGE

Introduction	95
6 History as an Account of Conspiracy and Treason:
Lessons to be learned	100
Demagogy and Deception in Antiquity	100
Machinations and Scheming in the Middle Ages	102
Capitalist Nationalism and Fascism	104
7 Counter-Insurgency: Warfare against the PKK	111
The Formative Years	113
Internal Power Struggles	114
‘Warlordism’ within the PKK and International Imperialist Intervention	118
8 In Fear of Freedom	126
The Birth of an Avant-Garde of the People	129
Restructuring	134
9 The Background to My Abduction from Kenya	139
Conspiracies and the Course of History	139
The Plot of the 15 February	151
Appendix The European Legal Institutions and the Solution to the Kurdish Question	155
Law and Legal institutions	156
Law and the Solution to Social Issues	157
European Law, Turkey and the Kurdish Question	157
The Imralı Process, the European Convention and the Federal Court of Human Rights	160
The Circumstances and the Illegal Activities	161
The Death Penalty as an Instrumental Threat against the Kurds	163
Political Lynch Law during the Trial on Imralı	164
A Compromise Settlement Before the European Court	165

Last Word	167
About the “International Initiative”	170
The Editorial Team	171
Notes	172
Index	175